Cheers & Tears

Lehigh students are very fortunate to have an outstanding theatre department, choir and high-class arts center. Zoellner Arts Center always has a new play to entertain the masses. This year Zoellner gave students, faculty and visitors the opportunity to see shows such as, "A Streetcar Named Desire," "The Pirates of Penzance," and "Runaways." In the spring, the arts center even hosted a group of Russian acrobats that performed a spectacular show known as "Aeros." But you do not have to be just an observer of the shows at Zoellner. Lehigh allows any student to be involved with the arts at the university. Whether you want to take lessons with a musical instrument, join the choir or audition for a musical, Zoellner Arts Center can help you appreciate the theatrical arts.

Talent

Most people do not realize that Zoellner Arts Center was not always a large part of the Lehigh community. Lehigh's opera and musical-theatre program was founded in 1995. Beginning with only four student participants, the program quickly grew to include a production of more than 20 for the 1997 presentation of "Divas, Dolls, and Demoiselles of the Demimonde" in Baker Hall. The students' enthusiastic response encouraged the department to produce a full-length musical, "Into the Woods," in 1998, followed by the January 1999 production of "A Little Night Music." Both musicals received critical acclaim. The presentation of "Le Nozze di Figaro" in September 1999 marked the debut of opera at Lehigh. The collaboration of such professional operatic productions at Lehigh provided opportunities for talented students on stage, in the pit and behind the scenes. One of this year's most highly acclaimed plays was the "The Pirates of Penzance." In this comic operetta, a collection of Lehigh's most talented singers and instrumentalists portrayed the adventures of the young pirate Frederic. In the play, once Frederic is 21, he is free to leave his indentured service to the Pirate King's band to find happiness with his true love Mabel. According to the Zoellner web page, "The Pirates of Penzance" was performed, for the first time, by a cast comprised solely of talented Lehigh students.

Histories & Mysteries

Every year the Global Union, Office of International Organizations and several other organizations get together to create the International Bazaar. This year the 14th annual event was held Sunday, April 28 from noon to 4 P.M.. Provost Ron Yoshida kicked off the afternoon's festivities which included displays from over 20 different student organizations. Everything from ethnic costumes, to traditional food and dance was showcased. There were a number of student-performed acts including a fashion show, a group that played traditional Mexican music on guitar, break dancing, Greek dancing demonstrations and a traditional Indian song sung by a member of the Indian Student Association (ISA). The Turkish Students Association offered ethnic puff pastries and shish kabobs. The International Bazaar is a time to focus on what makes the Lehigh community unique and trace the roots of the people who make Bethlehem their home away from home. History cannot be forgotten, and the International Bazaar is one of the most enduring signs of the university's effort to maintain and proudly display its varied cultural heritage.

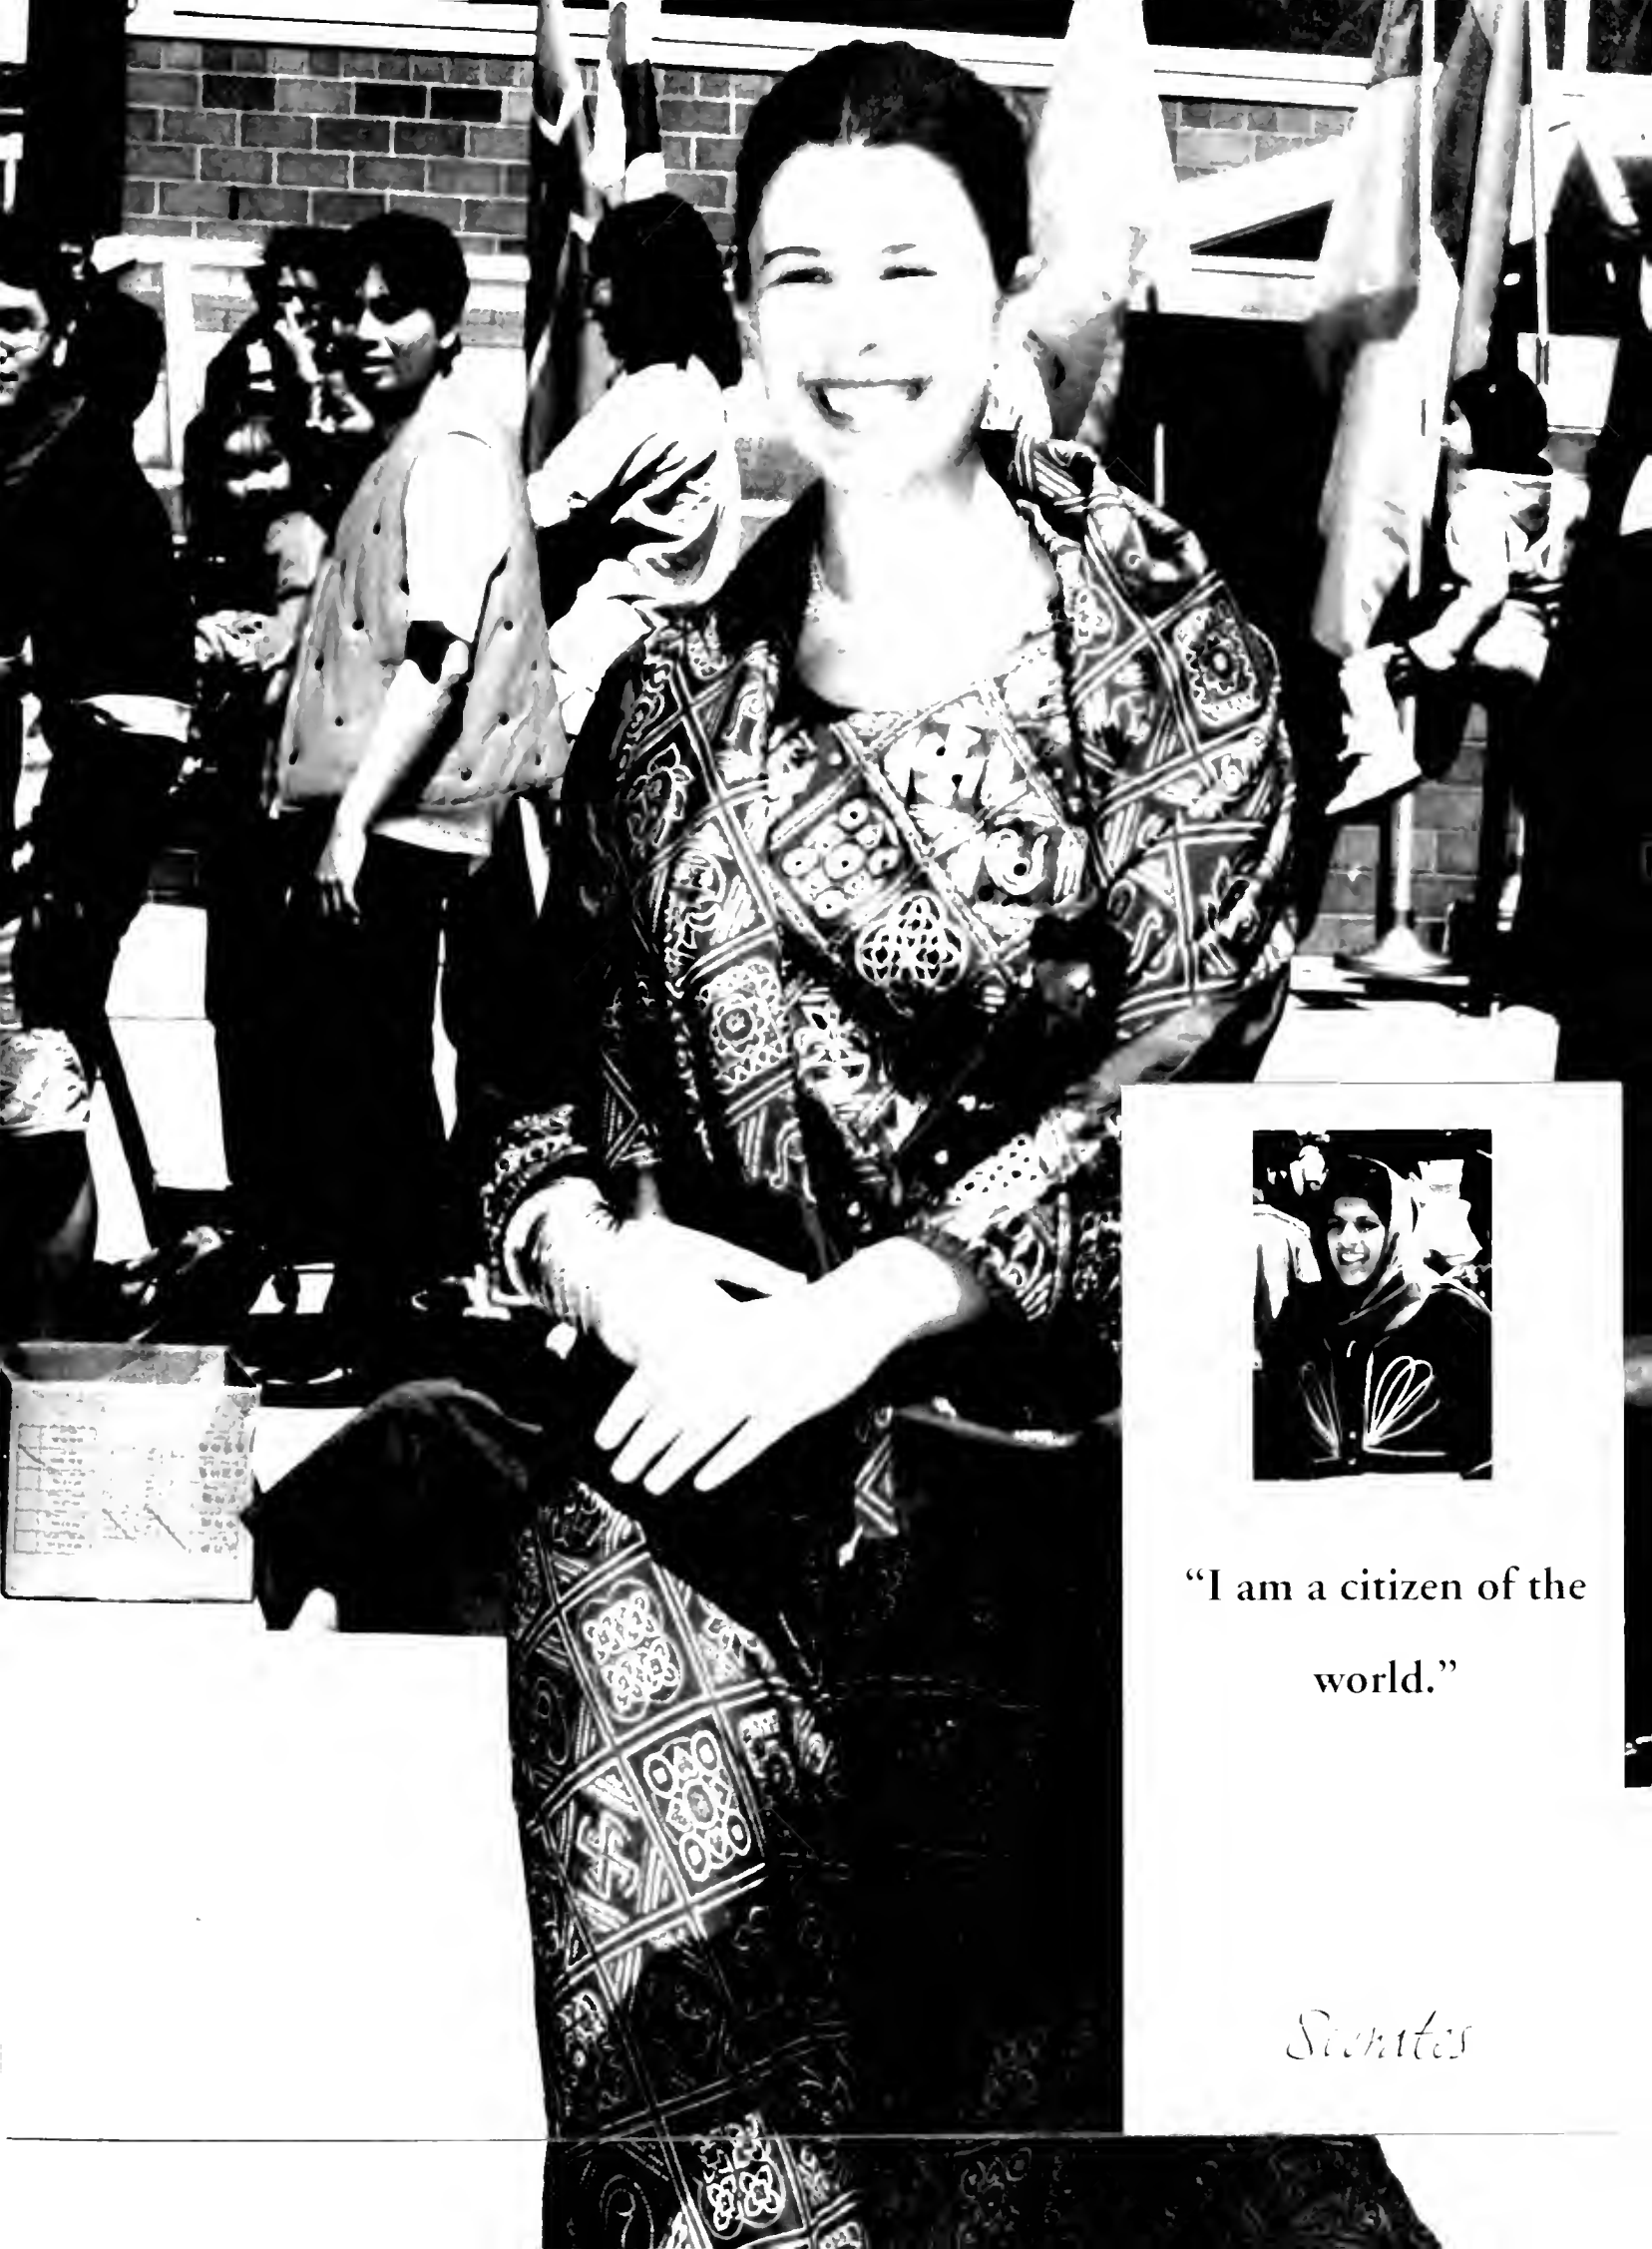

Below: Great food from various countries is also a favorite among guests.

Cultures & Costumes

This year's International Bazaar showcased tradition and history. The fashion show featured many different styles ranging from Hellenic to Chinese fashions. Other international fashions featured were of Turkish, Mexican, Pakistani, Egyptian, French and Indian heritage. There were many other activities presented at the bazaar as well. For example, at the Chinese Student Club participants could play a game of Chinese chess, while at the ISA booth, a participant could pay for a henna tattoo. Each group that performs helps the Lehigh community celebrate diversity. The events take place on the patio between Maginnes Hall and Fairchild-Martindale Library, and the crowds can often swell to more than several hundred attendees. The International Bazaar also puts Lehigh's global reach into the spotlight. Over 300 Lehigh students from a variety of majors study abroad every year. They travel to over 30 countries to participate in more than 100 different programs. Lehigh's campus is just as diverse, becoming a home to over 500 international students from 65 different countries every year. For these reasons and many more, the International Bazaar is an event at Lehigh that will always have significance and value for those who participate and those who attend simply to learn.

Sundaze Music Craze

Sundaze is University Productions' annual spring music event held at Sayre Field. The all-day festival draws approximately 4,000 attendees and is always a great time to relax and have fun before the stress of finals takes its toll. This year's lineup included Tubb, Detroit-based blues group Robert Bradley's Blackwater Surprise, Vermont natives Strangefolk and headliner Coolio. In addition to the musical acts, Sundaze always features many ways to have fun in the sun. Numerous activities like the joust and rock climbing wall always provide fun and entertainment for those who want a little more action than soaking up the sun. This year's lineup was one of the most diverse in Sundaze history and was the result of months of hard work by the University Productions student members. It also featured another theme as well: Cinco de Mayo. Pinatas were set up throughout the field and balloons were flying in the wind.

New Faces

Foreign Places

Studying in a foreign country can be a life-altering experience. Not only do you get the opportunity to travel and see many wonders of the world, but you can also meet people of different cultures and background--it can give you an alternate perspective on life. Some students choose to broaden their horizons on the European continent. There you can spend a day sight-seeing in Paris or hike the enormous mountains in Switzerland. Last summer, a group of Lehigh students elected to travel to Kenya. As a part of their program the students committed a selfless act by bringing computers to those who are less fortunate. Lehigh offers students the choice of embarking on a voyage to more than 30 countries including Australia, Panama, South Africa, Italy and China. It is unbelievable all the sights one can see. The Tower of London, the 2001 summer Olympics, works of Michaelangelo and the Roman ruins are just a few that come to mind. It is just amazing what a tremendous experience touring the globe can be. Regardless of the destination, study abroad programs can broaden your horizons and leave you with a scrap book of photographs and memories that last a lifetime. Many offer the sage advice that college students should definitely take the opportunity to study abroad because a chance like this comes along once in a lifetime.

Stars & Rivals

Lehigh/Lafayette, the country's most played college football rivalry...what images come to mind? Do any words ring in your memory? When you talk to alumni about their experience at Lehigh one of the first topics they bring up is the annual Lehigh versus Lafayette football game. It is described as complete and utter chaos starting from the Monday before game day. Usually classes become a second priority to pre-partying and bets on what the final score will be. When the big day arrives students from both on and off-campus set their alarm clocks to wake at the crack of dawn and begin their tailgating procedure. Breakfast on the day of the game usually consists of little more than just bagels. In addition, crowds can enjoy burgers and hot dogs fresh off the grill. About two hours prior to kickoff, Lehigh fans of all ages, dressed in brown and white, come together on the grass for good food, drinks and music. But the fun does not stop there, chanting and screaming cheers at the game are a common occurrence. Crowds sing along as the band plays the Lehigh fight songs. As usual, this year Lehigh accomplished another victory, which was no surprise to us. Hopefully we can keep up this record!

Touchdown! & Fans All Around

The 136th meeting of Lehigh vs. Lafayette took place on November 18, 2000 before a packed crowd at Lafayette. It ended with a 31-17 win over the Leopards to improve to a six-game winning streak over the Hawks' league rivals. For the seniors on the squad, the win made it a third consecutive graduating class that was never defeated by Lafayette. Lehigh's strong defensive squad struggled early in the game and had difficulty holding the Lafayette offense as the Leopards jumped out to an early lead. However, late in the second quarter after tying the game at 10, the Hawks took their first lead off a five-yard run by Derek Merrifield. After that Lehigh never looked back. The Hawks came out throwing in the second quarter dominating the Lafayette opponents to wrap up the season by showing why Lehigh deserved the title of Patriot League Champion. Lehigh defensive back Matt Salvaterra was the MVP for his game-high 11 tackles and two interceptions, making him the first defensive player since 1980 to earn that honor. The fans of the Lehigh Mountain Hawks chanted and screamed all throughout the game to offer support for their team. Here is to another win for the 2000 Lehigh football team!!!

First Days & New Ways

Whether you are kayaking down a river or waving good-bye to your parents from your new college dormitory, the first few days that you spend at Lehigh will remain in your fondest memories for the rest of your life. Adjusting to the changes of college is no easy task. New friends, a hall supervisor known as a "gryphon" and cafeteria-style food are just a few of the changes to which a new student needs to adjust. Some incoming freshmen anticipate this and leave home a few days early to begin this lifestyle change while camping and rock climbing in the wilderness. Other students prefer to wait until they arrive at Lehigh and unpack their bags before they let everything settle in. Nevertheless, soon after the sorority sisters finish helping you move your boxes in you start to feel at home. It does take a few days to get accustomed to walking up the hills and being able to identify academic buildings without a map, but before you know it you will be preparing to graduate and freshman year experiences will be committed to memory. After a short time, parties and classes become routine, and soon enough pacing break and winter break are right around the corner. The years will pass by in an instant, and freshman year is the only time everything will be new, so make the most of it, and do not miss any opportunities. Get involved in campus life and try not to have any regrets because your college years will be over before you know it, and it will be too late to start again.

Growing Up & Moving On

It is sometimes easy to forget the real reason we go to college, and that is of course to get a great job. The career fair is always on hand to remind us that whatever our goals, we can achieve them and find meaningful employment after college. Many students go to the fair hoping to find the perfect match. Others are simply curious. Career Services holds a different career fair for each of the three schools and urges students to participate and be prepared for the difficult task of landing the perfect job. The career fair is not only for seniors. Career Services recommends undergraduates head to the fair to get a head start on networking and look for possible summer jobs and internships. Career Services also urges students to bring 30-50 copies of their resumes with them to leave with the various companies and always project confidence and enthusiasm.

According to Career Services, the majority of Arts & Sciences job seekers from the Class of 2000 chose corporate positions in the areas of Customer Services/Marketing/Sales/Communications and Consulting. Forty-one percent decided to pursue further education and gained acceptance to highly competitive programs. The vast majority of Business graduates sought and obtained employment upon graduation at salaries typically at least 10 percent higher than national averages. High Engineering majors have the choice of immediate, well-compensated work in their chosen fields or graduate school placements to further their technical training.

Chillin' & Grillin'

"Some call it an unruly crowd; others consider it the epitome of the campus social scene. But whatever way you look at it, fall football tailgates are an age-old Lehigh tradition that students look forward to all summer long. For those six of seven home games at picturesque Goodman stadium, the fans start pouring into the grass parking lots at 10 a.m. with grills and couches in tow. Set-up is quick and the atmosphere is laid back, but tailgates is important enough to draw hundreds of students out of their beds. Different fraternities arrange their barbecue-style lunches and blast their favorite music mixes from open cars or stereo systems brought over the hill just for the occasion. Swarms of friends exchanging tales from the night before can relax, catch up on gossip or meet up with classmates they rarely see. For those not eating or cooking on the multiple grills, frisbee or football games are scattered across the area. The many different fraternity dogs, a recent trend on the hill, typically run the fields as the center of attention. By far, a favorite aspect of tailgates is the diversity of people. You can bring friends from home, invite your parents or even grandparents or just relax with people from all over campus. It's a special tradition, and the extent to which Lehigh authorities give students freedom is unique to our campus. Around kickoff time, tailgates usually winds down to a few remaining partiers while the majority of the crowd makes its way to the game. While it may last only a few hours a week, tailgates is usually the wildest and most memorable experience of fall semester."

Lazy Days & Catching Rays

It happens at about the same time every year – papers and exams start to pile up and we wish we could take a vacation. The break cannot come soon enough. Some call it spring fever, but it is known by the university as a week in March called Spring Break. Beaches from Florida to the Bahamas became flooded with college students awaiting warm weather, large crowds and the anticipation of the never-ending week. Everyone seemed to find what they were looking for – whether it was relaxation or crazy parties. Sororities and fraternities traveled together and some couples found the perfect chance for time alone. Other friends met up with friends from home, but all had a great time living it up. Some sat on the beach all day while others partied the nights away in high style. Some people even spent their week away from school helping others. The Alternative Spring Break group drove to Bristol, Florida to help Habitat for Humanity build houses for those less fortunate. While there, students experienced what can sometimes be lacking over Spring Break; a chance to give back. The best thing about Spring Break is that it gives us all a chance to escape reality, even if it is only for a few days. The tan-lines and newly developed pictures tell the story of a week spent without worry. In the end, returning home to finish up the year can be the hardest part of the whole adventure, but at least we come back with interesting stories and memories that will last a lifetime. For the seniors, Spring Break is one of the last chances to reminisce and spend time with friends before real life begins.

Partying & Greeks A Crazy Week

Greek Week is one of Lehigh's most exciting weeks. Held in late April, Greek Week festivities are open to everyone and provide a great break from the stress of classes and a window to the summer. This year, Kappa Alpha fraternity and Alpha Gamma Delta sorority were crowned winners of Greek Week at Chi Phi fraternity's reggae party. Second place for the sororities went to Pi Beta Phi. Chi Omega and Delta Gamma sororities tied for third. In the fraternity competition, Lambda Chi Alpha received second place, while Delta Tau Delta took third. Opening and closing ceremonies are always a must because of the originality of each Greek house's presentation. Annual events such as Sigma Nu's Dance Contest and the Sammy Bed Races are always a great way to get outside and participate in the fun. The Lambda Chi Alpha Wing King and Queen Competition and Pike's Dream Girl are also a great time. The Crow Gladiator Competition and the Theta Xi Airband Contest get the competition moving. The Kappa Sigma Date Auction and the Phi Sig Grand Prix are always fun as well.

Full Moon & Costume

Halloween becomes more than just trick-or-treating at Lehigh. The autumn holiday has become a tradition that begs students to dress up and head up to "The Hill," for an abundance of parties. From costumes that are sexy to scary and beyond, Halloween is undoubtedly the year's best time for assuming different identities and carrying them off with style. Walking around campus are plenty of disguised people ready to begin a night of fun and frolic. Many fraternities, such as Phi Kappa Alpha, begin their Halloween festivities early by holding haunted houses for students and the community. These are a great chance to get together and see how original the costumes are. Others celebrate making costumes for their large group of friends and going out together. These costumes are always fun and interesting. Be careful when you go out on Halloween. There may be black cats, witches, ghosts and goblins awaiting you at your destination. Regardless of your Halloween plans, the holiday's festivities remain one of the most memorable of the year. Enjoy your time at college dressing up and assuming a different identity for the night because the day only comes once a year and there will not be another time to scare your teachers and classmates with some Halloween fear.

SARAH LIEBENTRITT is a Chemistry major with a minor in Psychology, and she is also working toward a minor in Science Writing. She plans on completing that minor during her fifth year at Lehigh as a President's Scholar. Sarah has made the Dean's List every semester and hopes to graduate summa cum laude. She has many honors to her name including Phi Beta Kappa, the Harry M. Ullmann Chemistry Prize for the highest ranking senior in Biochemistry or Chemistry, Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities, the William H. Chandler Sophomore Prize in Chemistry for the highest ranking sophomore in Chemistry, Order of Omega and Phi Eta Sigma. Sarah is very active in her sorority, Pi Beta Phi, having served as Executive Secretary and Standards Board Chair. She has also participated as a student tutor and was a teaching assistant for the Chemistry Department in the fall of 2000. The accomplishment of which she is most proud, however, is the amazing opportunity she had to work in Sweden during the summer of 2000 as a market research intern at Akzo Nobel Surface Chemistry in Stenungsund.

KRISTIN SARGENT is a junior majoring in Mathematics and English. She is an ROTC cadet and through ROTC participates in Scabbard and Blade and the Society of American Military Engineers. Kristin is a member of Best Buddies as well as a Student Ambassador. She is also the junior class representative on the English Undergraduate Committee. Kristin is presently working on her thesis for the College Scholar Program. Recently, she was selected for the Martindale Scholars Program and traveled to Hong Kong in May 2001 to study women's issues. Kristin has also participated in a Black Box One Act production playing a rebellious college student who refused to take any suggestions from her English professor.

MICKEY BROWN is a native of Worcester, MA who came to Lehigh unsure of what he wanted to study but had the desire to be a part of the school paper. He took some journalism classes and enjoyed writing which led him to major in Journalism and minor in Communications. Mickey was Co-Editor in Chief of The Brown and White during the spring semester of his senior year. He is also a part of the College Scholar Program, Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society and Phi Beta Kappa. Mickey has won the Williams Prize for Journalism the past two years. Mickey has made the Dean's List all seven semesters and participated in the Washington, DC Semester Journalism Program at American University. It was here that he wrote a 45-page paper on the evolution of ESPN. He also attended the tenth annual Collegiate Sports Journalism Seminar in the spring of 2001. Mickey is Co-President of Lehigh's chapter of the Society of Professional Journalists. He has interned at two newspapers including The Morning Call and a local ABC-TV affiliate in Washington, DC. After graduation, Mickey believes he will be working either as a sports reporter at a small newspaper or working in sports communication at a college. Aside from academics, Mickey enjoys skiing and playing rugby. His favorite sportswriter is Gary Smith, a writer for Sports Illustrated, and his career goal is to be Editor in Chief of that publication.

BROOKE HERMAN is a Journalism major with minors in Women's Studies and Writing because writing has always been one of her favorite endeavors. If more writing programs were available, she would have majored in those as well. The one organization Brooke made the biggest commitment to was The Brown and White, beginning first semester her freshman year as a writer. The next semester Brooke was appointed Lifestyle Editor, a position she continued to hold until the middle of her sophomore year. She eventually became Editor in Chief during the fall of her senior year. Brooke believed this to be a miraculous experience for many reasons, the biggest being that she never thought she would get there. She now believes that with hard work and dedication, things will eventually work out. Brooke is also Co-President of Lehigh's chapter of Society of Professional Journalists. She won two Williams Prize Awards from the English Department her junior year. Between her junior and senior year of school, she worked as a features intern for The Asbury Park Press newspaper. At the Press, she got the chance to write many community section stories. During the spring of her senior year, Brooke interned at Men's Health Magazine and realized her love for magazines. Eventually, she wants to write features for a women's magazine. As of now, Cosmopolitan is her first choice.

TAVIS RENDELL'S four years at Lehigh have been very memorable. Thanks to the invaluable help and guidance of the International Relations Department, during his junior year Tavis was able to study abroad for a fantastic semester in London, England. He also had the tremendous experience of an internship at the US State Department in Washington, DC. Outside of Lehigh, Tavis really values his family as well as many long-term friendships. Most of all, he looks forward to spending time with friends. During the summer, Tavis enjoyed visiting family in Britain, going to the Jersey Shore and relaxing in his hometown. His free time is usually spent playing tennis and soccer and working out in Taylor Gym. After graduation, Tavis is heading to Georgetown University to pursue an M.A. in National Security Studies. He will take with him many unforgettable and lasting memories of Lehigh.

ERIK WITTMAN is graduating with a BA in International Relations and Spanish. While at Lehigh, he has been a tour guide for the Admissions Office, has had a work-study job at the University Center's main desk, has been the Treasurer of the World Affairs Club, has been a proud brother of Alpha Chi Rho and has studied abroad in Spain for five months. Over the past four years his interest in international relations has grown, along with his interest in politics. The past two summers he has interned in Washington, DC for his Congressmen and his Senator from New York, respectively. In addition, this past fall, he worked on Ed O'Brien's campaign for the United States Congress. After graduation, Erik hopes to move to our nation's capital and work for the government either in politics or in a field related to international affairs. He also hopes to return to graduate school and earn his masters. Erik is most proud of his family and would like to thank his parents for all of the love and support they have provided him throughout his life. He is forever indebted to them. Erik would also like to thank God. Without His guidance Erik believes his four years here would not have been as easy.

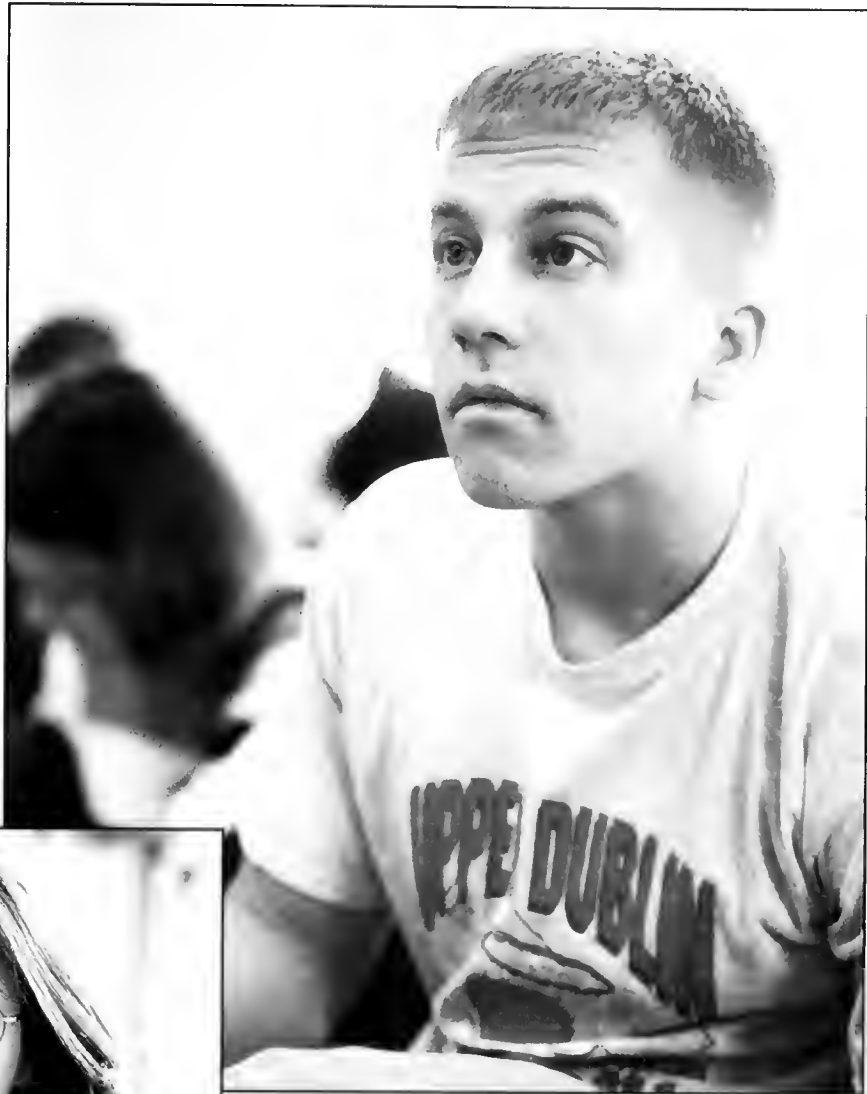

NICK STRASSER is an International Relations major from Cherry Hill, NJ. During his four years at Lehigh, Nick has participated in ROTC and the STAR Academy tutoring program. He has also served as a Student Ambassador with the Admissions Office, Vice President of the Scabbard and Blade Society for two years, and President of the College Democrats for two years. During the spring semester of his sophomore year, Nick studied abroad at the University of Nottingham in England. He is a Martindale scholar and a College Scholar as well as a member of Phi Eta Sigma, Phi Beta Delta and Phi Beta Kappa. Next year, Nick will be attending the Beasley School of Law at Temple University in Philadelphia, PA.

MISTY HARMON is a senior Psychology student with a minor in Social Psychology. She is in the College Scholar Program and has been able to take a wide variety of Philosophy and English courses as well as Psychology courses that focus on writing to prepare her for a career in writing or publishing. Misty is completing an honors thesis in Psychology titled "Why Astrology Seems to Work: The Role of the Working Self-Concept and Positive Test Strategies." In addition, she is doing research in online "non-verbal" behavior in the group dynamic. Outside of class, Misty is the administrator of an online text-based world where people from a global community can be immersed in a fantasy world with a functioning society and economy called "Eye of the World MUD." Misty maintains the webpage and creates and maintains several webpages for professors and departments. She plans to continue with Internet research, hopefully combining it with a career in writing.

DEREK WISCHUSEN is majoring in Cognitive Science and plans to obtain a major in Psychology before leaving Lehigh. His primary interests in Cognitive Science are Neuroscience and Linguistics. Derek's aspirations are to obtain a Ph.D. in Cognitive Neuroscience and then hopefully become a professor at a prestigious research university. His other interest within the realm of Cognitive Science is Artificial Intelligence. Derek already pursues this field through his job at CHI, a small A.I. company outside of Philadelphia, PA.

Dean's Scholar SARA JENSEN is a Materials Science major originally from Maryland. She greatly enjoys playing rugby for Lehigh. Sara has worked at W.L. Gore as a summer intern and plans on going to graduate school. She has many accomplishments including her induction into Tau Beta Pi Honor Society and being on the Dean's List every semester. Sara is most proud of her ability to reach a balance between sports and school.

DAN GIBBS began his Lehigh career walking onto the football field and as a wrestling heavyweight. As luck would have it, he fractured his back going into spring ball during his freshman year. This gave him free time, while rehabilitating his back, to audition for "A Threepenny Opera." Dan was cast as Warden Smith and the rest is history. He is now an actor. After finishing his Presidential Scholarship this year, he is moving to San Diego, CA and will audition for anything he can.

Breaking his back also let him realize the most important thing in his life. He married her January 2, 1999 and loves her still. Dan wholeheartedly thanks Audrey for all her love and support.

HRVOJE BENKO was born in Zagreb, Croatia, the city that holds most of his childhood memories. As a child he used to spend entire summers on the beautiful Croatian coast. During his junior year of high school, Hrvoje got a full-scholarship to study in America, and he enrolled at Wyoming Seminary College Preparatory School in Kingston, PA. After graduating with highest honors he came to Lehigh to pursue engineering interests and get a Computer Engineering degree. Hrvoje would like to think that he got as much out of his time at Lehigh as possible. His goal in life is to try as many things as possible, so he got involved in numerous activities. Aside from academics, Hrvoje has played the violin since he was six and continued in college as a member of the LU Philharmonic. He started helping the Philharmonic as the tour manager when he organized the orchestra's first international tour of Austria and the Czech Republic. He later served as the LUP President. Hrvoje also became involved in the Gryphon

Society, and eventually became the Head Gryphon of Trembley Park. Many great memories will be connected to his residents, and he is very grateful that he had a chance to help others and assist in the creation of the wonderful student community Lehigh offers. Hrvoje also brushed up on his leadership skills as the President of the Future Global Entrepreneurs and a Vice-President of Phi Beta Delta International Honor Society. Hrvoje traveled to Ireland as a Martindale Society Student Associate and is finishing his article on Irish e-commerce that will be published in Nasdaq's journal "Perspectives on Business and Economics." Hrvoje is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Eta Sigma and Phi Beta Delta Honor societies and has won numerous other honors and awards, some of which include the Class of 1904 Award, PBD Student of the Year, Gabuzda Memorial Award for the Best Student in EECS Department, Contribution to Student Life Award and Unisys Corp. First Scholar. He also supported Habitat for Humanity by building houses in Greenville, SC during this year's spring break.

HONGGUO HO has been a student at Lehigh for three years. He says that at least up until now Lehigh has been the best part of his life. He has learned a lot both in and out of classes, made many friends and had an overall good time at college. Majoring in Computer Science means that Hongguo had to spend most of his time in computer labs as well as programming or designing hardware. His first semester was spent in GE China doing web design, and in his second semester Hongguo was programming for IBM. As for the future, Hongguo is setting out to get a further degree at Stanford University, and he hopes to become a successful computer engineer. Hongguo would like to thank Lehigh "for all the tough courses, nice professors, and funny guys."

WELELA HAILESELASSIE is a senior Computer Engineering major and Economics minor. In high school, she received one of the first international student scholarships offered by Lehigh. Welela left her homeland of Ethiopia and came to the US to broaden the scope of her education and obtain her B.S. The courses Welela took at Lehigh and the summer internship experiences she had with three different General Electric businesses helped to develop her interest in the hardware aspects of Computer Engineering and motivated her to pursue her M.S. (and possibly her Ph.D.). Welela plans to obtain a challenging career position that will utilize her technical and leadership abilities while increasing her hardware competency. She also intends to play a major role in shaping Ethiopia's technology-based society and in making a difference in the lives of those around her. Welela is a member of Tau Beta Pi, Phi Beta Delta and Phi Eta Sigma Honor societies. She was Vice-President and Fundraising Chair of the National Society of Black Engineers. She also co-founded the African Cultural Club at Lehigh and was the undergraduate student representative for Lehigh's College of Engineering and Applied Science Dean Search Committee.

Welela is also a recipient of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges, a Mike Shinn Distinguished Fellow and a recipient of the Phi Beta Delta Student Scholar Award. Welela's personal interests lie in traveling to new places and learning about different cultures and languages. During the summer of 1999, she received a scholarship to participate in a Lehigh Study Abroad Program in Rouen, France and found it to be a very enjoyable experience. Welela loves taking pictures, making home videos, collecting stamps from all over the world and spending quality time with family and friends. She is also in the process of developing an interest in cooking. Her favorite Quote is "Knowledge is BORING if not APPLIED!"

A Letter from the President to the Class of 2001 . . .

It must seem like just yesterday—or maybe forever ago—that you arrived at Lehigh to begin your first year. Move-in days are times of high emotion. Lugging your computer up three flights of stairs, realizing that your dorm room is a lot smaller full than empty, meeting your roommate for the first time, wondering whether you will ever make friends as good as those in high school and trying to find a way to send your parents home soon but not too soon; these and a dozen other memories must spill from your mind as you think about your first days on campus.

Now it's several years later in time and light years in terms of what you have experienced and how you have changed. It's another time of anticipation and transition. The world—a job or graduate school—pulls forward and Lehigh tugs back. Exciting times, indeed.

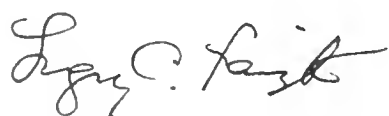

I hope you find “real life” to be great. Lehigh grads generally do. I have the pleasure of meeting hundreds of Lehigh alums each year and find that virtually all of them tell me that their lives are very rewarding. They also have strong and fond memories of the time they spent on South Mountain. Their loyalty is one of the most impressive characteristics of the Lehigh family.

For the most part, the older alums grow, the more their Lehigh memories are of people—from teachers and coaches who touched their lives to roommates and fraternity brothers who became friends for life. The same will probably be true for you. Your best Lehigh memories will be of Lehigh people.

There is a message in these memories. It's that, in the end, people count more than anything else, and being a good person—daughter, son, mother, father, friend—is more important than all that money can buy.

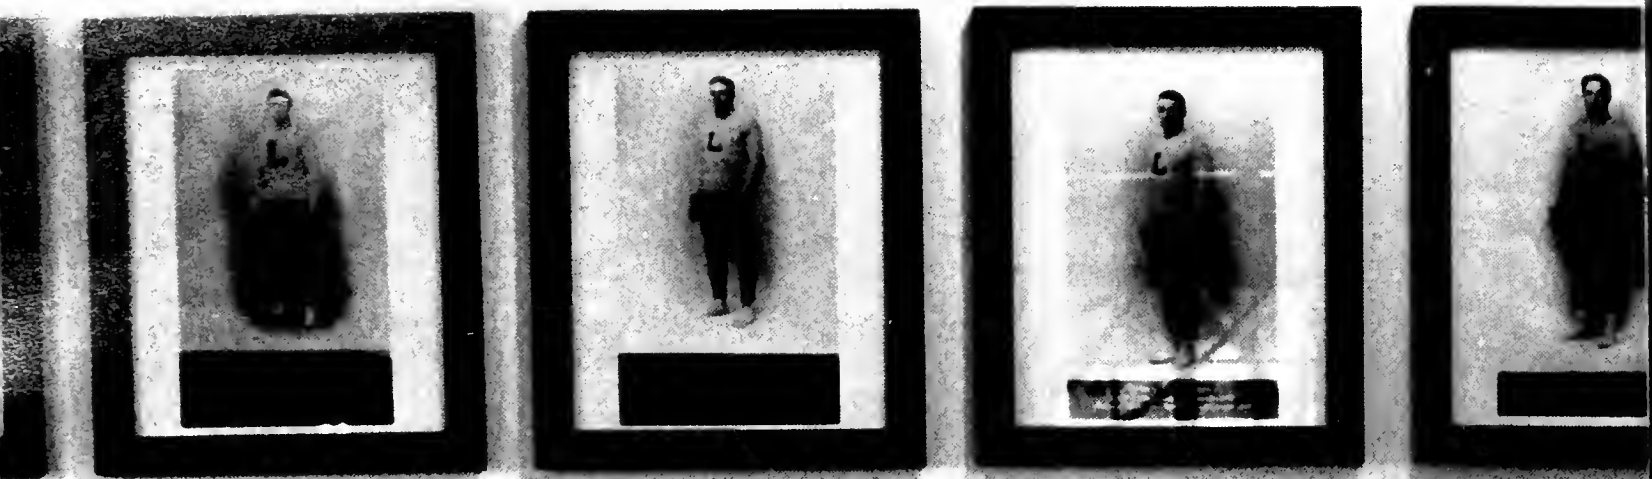

So, as your future unfolds, always take time to be a genuinely good person. Contribute to your world. It has contributed a lot to get you to where you are today.

Remember Lehigh, too. Come back from time to time and tell us how things are going. All of us at Lehigh will be eager to know how you are doing.

This past fall was another successful season for many of Lehigh's athletic teams. The football team continued its dynasty by capturing another Patriot League Championship while advancing to the second round of national playoffs. The men's soccer team also took home the Patriot League title by beating archrival Lafayette in the final round of the tournament.

The women's soccer and field hockey teams both experienced turn around years that are allowing their programs to develop and earn more respect. The men's and women's cross country teams placed fourth and second, while Debbie Utesch received Patriot League Coach of the Year Honors for the women's best finish in the last nine years.

SOCCER

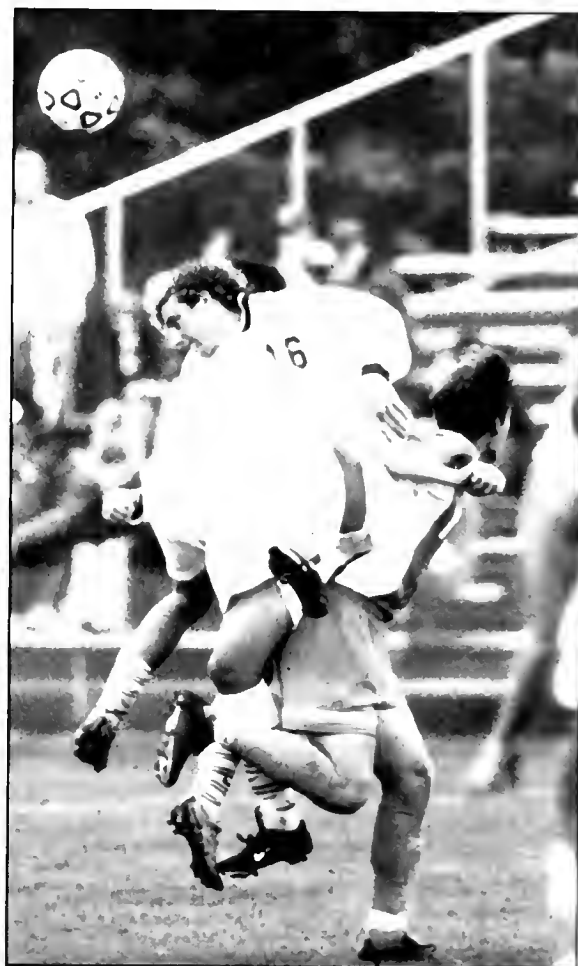

The Lehigh men's soccer team had a historic year winning the Patriot League Championship and gaining an NCAA birth. Led by seniors Andy Soisson, John Wrobel and Andy Casey, the men's soccer team had an unprecedented run in the final three weeks of the season to keep its dream alive: defeating Navy 2-1 in double overtime, stunning Bucknell with nine seconds left to win 1-0 and beating Bucknell the following week in the first round of the playoffs 1-0 to advance to the finals against the top-seated team Lafayette. In dramatic fashion, the men's soccer team scored with just 11.4 seconds remaining to send the championship game into overtime. After four sudden victory periods, the game remained deadlocked and the teams went to penalty kicks to decide the championship. It was not until Co-Captain Andy Soisson's kick did Lehigh emerge as the 2000 Patriot League Champion, and the celebration erupted. The journey was a result of exceptional mental endurance and the mental stability displayed by twenty-three courageous young men. The reward was a championship and an NCAA birth that no other Lehigh team in history has ever achieved.

Andrew Soisson, co-captain and defensive mainstay, returns with significant experience. Having started every game this season, he is easily the most consistent player over the past three seasons. Andy has led the team defensively and directed the backs and midfield. He is the anchor of the team's defense and as a center back has provided ample stability.

Coach Julie Leonhardt had big expectations coming into this fall season for her Lady Mountain Hawks, and she watched as her team fulfilled them. The Hawks broke four season records, tied two records, scored the most goals in one season since 1994 and beat Army for the first time in the history of women's soccer at Lehigh. On top of everything, Lehigh had four All-Patriot League Award recipients, more than the team has ever had before, including Jami Bisetti's selection as Defensive Player of the Year. Joining Jami were All-Patriot selections junior Jen Karpovich (first team), junior Michi Matter (second team) and freshman Lauren Rybas (second team). One of the biggest highlights of the season came in Lehigh's defeat of Lafayette in overtime for the second year in a row. The team's overall record tied for Best Record, and the women allowed fewer goals than ever in the history of women's soccer at Lehigh. Coach Leonhardt was pleased with this season and said, "I am extremely proud of my team."

When Jami Bisetti signed with Lehigh as a goalkeeper, Coach Julie Leonhardt said, "She was taking a leap of faith coming to a team which didn't have a very good record in the past." Coach Leonhardt was a first-year coach and was planning on "...building the team up from the back to the front...Jami was going to be the cornerstone," and Jami proved to be just that. Four years later, Jami was named Patriot League Defensive Player of the Year. She excelled in every aspect of her game. Jami holds six career records for the women's soccer team and has the second-best Goals Against Average in Lehigh history.

CROSS COUNTRY

The men's cross country team has been constantly developing over the last few years. Sophomore Alex L'Heureux began leading the pack this year. The Mountain Hawks had a huge sweep over archrival Lafayette with L'Heureux in first place and juniors Rob Black and Dan Contreras taking third and fourth respectively. "Rob and Dan ran a great race together and were able to keep Lafayette's number two runner out of the top three," said Coach Utesch. This strategy let Lehigh dominate the finish line. "Senior Justin Taylor and sophomore Tim Monahan both ran one of their best races and guaranteed the win for us," Contreras said. This is the second consecutive year the men have beaten Lafayette. At the Monmouth Invitational, the same three placed in the top five again: L'Heureux placing first, Contreras taking third and Black finishing fourth right behind him. This strong foundation helped the men's team edge out Monmouth for a first-place team finish and a very successful season.

Sophomore Alex L'Heureux has made quite an impression on Patriot League Cross Country competition. He was an All-Patriot League selection for the second year after placing sixth at the League meet. Alex was a consistent top-finisher among the Lehigh men in competition. He finished first in the Lehigh-Lafayette dual meet to help his team beat archrival Lafayette. He also placed fifth overall and first out of the Lehigh men at the Dartmouth Invitational. As a result, Alex was named a Patriot League Cross Country Runner of the Week.

CROSS COUNTRY

The women's cross country team had a phenomenal season. This year's women finished with their best record in the last nine years and placed second in the Patriot League meet. Head Coach Debbie Utesch received Coach of the Year Honors for her team's efforts. She said, "The best thing about winning the award was when it was announced the team seemed so happy for me. The credit obviously goes to them. To finish in second place with what is still a relatively young team is quite an accomplishment." This young team has clearly defined the path it is going to take. The women blew Lafayette away in their dual meet this season capturing the top five places. Lucinda Hull won the women's race while her sister Claudin took second 11 seconds later. Megan Ackers, Edann Brady and Christine Boyd finished off the top five. Boyd edged out the top Lafayette runner by only five seconds. Both Claudin and Lucinda Hull earned spots on the Patriot League Team by placing seventh and fourth in the League meet. These women are looking for even stronger finishes next year.

Senior Colleen Glass has been one of the most experienced runners on the cross country team.

For the past two years, she has been the co-captain and a key piece of foundation of this young team. The women have used Colleen as an example for her leadership and determination both in athletics and academics as an Academic All-American Team member.

Although the women's volleyball team started the season with two losses against Mississippi State and Air Force, it was no prediction of the team's performance to come. It was a close season with a final record of 15-14 overall. A highlight of this season was a 3-0 win against rival Lafayette that placed Lehigh in the Patriot League Tournament held at Bucknell. Lafayette put up a good fight but did not stand a chance against sophomore Rochelle Healea's ten kills or Shannon Doherty's 11 digs. Despite defeating Bucknell twice during the season, Lehigh lost to the Bison in the tournament. However, Head Coach Patrick Nicholas was able to oversee another Patriot League victory, 7-5, for the fourth year in a row. Shannon Doherty, the lone senior, led an even younger team than last year. Other critical players included Kim Feltner, who played all season on a bad ankle, and sophomore Samantha Stahl, the team's setter. Katie Dukatz along with Feltner and Stahl made up one of the smallest front lines in the Patriot League. Volleyball ended its regular season with a sweep against Coppin State. Game scores were a whopping 15-2, 15-3 and 15-8. Overall the team earned another successful season and is looking forward to an even more rewarding one next fall.

Shannon Doherty was the only senior this year as well as the only player in Lehigh's history to play every single position. "It was truly a delight to see Shannon's leadership ability senior year. Her tenacity and spirit in practice and during a match allowed Shannon to gain the respect of her teammates and coaches. Shannon was definitely a leader by example." -Assistant Coach George Yeh

FIELD HOCKEY

Despite returning only two seniors, the field hockey team managed to improve its record from last year. Captains Kristy McHale ('01), Patrice Alvino ('01) and Jenny Lehman ('02) provided the leadership and experience necessary for the Lady Mountain Hawks to produce a record of 7-10. Juniors Michelle Wilgden and Lehman led the scoring effort with six and five goals respectively while Alvino and McHale shut down many opponents with a strong defensive effort in the backfield. The Lady Mountain Hawks will greatly miss the presence of their two seniors, but as Alvino stated, "Now we have the foundation to be successful, and the program can do nothing but flourish." Lehigh field hockey continues to strengthen as three players, junior Cindy Tindall, sophomore Margo Smith and McHale, were selected to the 2000 Astro-Turf/NFCA Division I Mid-East All-American Teams. McHale was selected to the All-Patriot League First Team while Tindall led the team with 42 shots on goal and received Second Team All-Patriot League Honors for her excellence on attack and in the midfield. Sophomore goalkeeper Margo Smith was selected to the first team and was nationally ranked 12th in save percentage. "I think we made some real progress this season and our seniors should be very pleased with what they accomplished."

- Coach Finegan

As a three-year starter, senior Kristy McHale provided a competitive edge in the defensive end while also proving to be a strong presence on the attack. Described by many of her teammates as having an all-or-nothing attitude, McHale possessed a strong dedication and desire to win that fueled her throughout her career. To finish her playing career at Lehigh, McHale earned First Team All-Patriot League Honors. Coach Finegan believes she "is fun to watch because of her competitiveness."

FOOTBALL

The Lehigh football team used this season to prove it is a strong force to contend with in the Patriot League. With the loss of several key starters from last season, this year was tabbed as a year of rebuilding for the Mountain Hawks. Even so, Lehigh found a way to win all season long. On offense, the team was led by starting quarterback Brant Hall who provided Lehigh with a strong arm and an ability to run. He was helped by talented wide receivers Rick Moore and Brian Endler. Led by seniors Matt Andrews, Antraveous Slaton, James Young and Bryant Appling, the often overshadowed defense took center stage returning six of its top nine tacklers from last year's nationally ranked team in scoring and rushing defense. The team finished with an undefeated regular season, third straight Patriot League Championship and a first-round upset win over Western Illinois in the NCAA Tournament. Although the season ended with a tough loss to the University of Delaware in the second round of the playoffs, it was still a very impressive season.

Senior Quad-Captain Brian McDonald has been a strong offensive lineman throughout his Lehigh career. He helped lead his team to win three straight Patriot League Championships and make three straight NCAA Tournament appearances.

Brian was named a Kodak and Associated Press All-American as a senior and earned All-ECAC First Team Honors. He was also named to the All-Patriot League Team as a junior and senior.

The winter brought home three All-Americans, one Patriot League title, anticipation and angst. The men's basketball team turned its season around and beat Lafayette all three times they played, including a come from behind win in the first round of the Patriot League Tournament. In the end, both the men's and women's basketball teams fell to Holy Cross. The swim teams vied for top spots in the league again with the women regaining the crown and the men finishing up second. The men's track team set two new school records and the women's team had two athletes earn All-East honors. All the while, Lehigh wrestling brought three All-Americans home from nationals.

BASKETBALL

The Lehigh men's basketball team started the season looking to prove to pre-season critics that it could play at the same high level as last season. Under the direction of Coach Sal Mentesana, and led by veterans Ed Lacayo and Bobby Willis, Lehigh capped off its best regular season since the early 90s by beating archrival Lafayette for the third time this year. Sophomore guard Matt Logie emerged as a premiere league shooter and was honored as a Second Team All-Patriot League member. All-Rookie team member Alex Jensen played a major role in his first season as a Mountain Hawk thanks to his versatility on the court. Lehigh also received strong inside support from sophomore center Matt Crawford, a strong rebounder with a good outside jump shot. The season ended with a loss to top-seated Holy Cross in the Patriot League Tournament in its third straight semifinal appearance in as many years. The return of four of five starters for next season can only mean that Lehigh will be a force to reckon with in the coming year.

Edil Lacayo, a back-to-back winner of the team's Coaches Award, served as senior captain and helped Lehigh to the most wins since the 1992 season. Ed also won the Lehigh Male Leadership Award presented to the male student athlete that best represents the traditions of leadership, character and athleticism. Coach Sal Mentesana says, "He has thrown himself into this 150%." Ed's enthusiasm for the sport is just as apparent in his community with his participation in numerous youth basketball camps and clinics.

BASKETBALL

The 2000-2001 women's basketball team came into this season with few familiar faces on the court. Having lost seven players to graduation, Head Coach Sue Troyan was faced with the challenge of mixing a talented group of new players with the few remaining team veterans. It appears that Lehigh has met that challenge. All-Patriot League Honors were given to senior Gina Zang and sophomore Anne Tierney, who together helped lead the Mountain Hawks in 3-point shooting and rebounding. Tierney, following up on one of the best freshman seasons in Patriot League history, became the fastest Lehigh player to reach 1,000 points in the final regular season game against Navy. Lehigh sophomore guards Shelita Burks and Billi Ford also provided Lehigh with support throughout the season. The Mountain Hawks ended their season with a loss in the Patriot League Tournament to Holy Cross, the only other team to capture the league title in the past few seasons. All eyes will be on Lehigh next season as it looks toward avenging that loss and winning the league title.

Sarah Hessel, the senior co-captain, has anchored the power forward position for the Mountain Hawks over the last few seasons. She is a steady player who averaged at least 10 points per game in Patriot League play for the third year running. Showing strong leadership abilities, Sarah consistently performed well in pressure situations. She led the Mountain Hawks in scoring during Senior Night competition over Colgate and in her final game, a tough tournament loss to Holy Cross.

SWIMMING & DIVING

The 2000-2001 men's swimming and diving team came into this season with one goal in mind: the Patriot League trophy. Although the men came up short, finishing second to their long-time nemesis Army, they still had an extraordinary season. The team had to face many obstacles such as illness and injury, sidelining some of its key members. However, the men were able to come together while enduring the pains of the Florida training trip. They returned to Lehigh tired and broken down but persisted to achieve their goal of the Patriot League Championship by keeping their heads held high. The men went into the meet and swam their hearts out. Although the men finished second, they left the meet with 12 All-Patriot League Honors given to seniors Matt Barausky, Bryan Dunker and Andy Holland; junior Rocco Colabella; sophomores Ian Gillen and Bing Padmasankha; and freshman Brian Golebiewski. Also receiving high honor was sophomore Lou Bosurgi who walked away with the honor of Swimmer of the Meet. Even though the men did not win, they were still victors. They overcame more than any other team in the league and worked harder than most could ever imagine.

Senior Bryan Dunker is an incredibly intense person, in and out of the pool. Bryan, a member of ROTC, has received many awards from ROTC as well as the university including the Contribution to Student Life Award, the Alumni Association Undergraduate Merit Award and the University Service Award.

In the pool, Bryan is the co-captain of the men's swimming team, and he is an amazing leader. "Bryan is one of the finest individuals we've ever had in our swimming program at Lehigh. As a person, a scholar-athlete and a leader he is a role model to all of his peers and has set a standard of excellence for other Lehigh swimmers to follow."

SWIMMING & DIVING

This year was one of greatness for the Lady Mountain Hawk swimmers and divers. The women were able to overcome much adversity including illness and the loss of some very talented swimmers. They also endured a Florida training trip that was comparable to boot camp. The women were beat down and tired for the majority of the season, but with a lot of rest and a good taper they were ready to show the world their "O" faces when February and the Patriot League Championship meet rolled around. The women swam and dove like maniacs for three grueling days and nights and came out on top, out-swimming Bucknell by 36.5 points. Leading the Hawks were junior Lauren Ayres, sophomores Laura Gabrynowicz and Katy Hunchar and freshman Linsey Kokal, who all received Patriot League Honors. Also receiving high League Honors was the women's Head Coach Chris Marshall, who went home with the Coach of the Year award for the second year in a row. All of the women that received Patriot honors will be returning next year and are ready to fight for the title once again.

The first word that comes to mind when one thinks of Linsey Kokal is "astounding." A freshman from Ohio, Linsey came into this season with high expectations, all of which she met. After shaving her head at the Patriot League Championship Meet in February, Linsey won two of her three individual events and received All-Patriot League Honors. When asked about Linsey, Coach Chris Marshall responded, "Linsey is one of the finest competitors I have ever known. There is no one else I have met who likes to win more than Linsey. She also happens to be one of the easiest going, well liked and fun student-athletes we have in our program. An interesting blend in an individual...fierce, but fun!"

INDOOR TRACK

Despite its youth, after graduating many strong seniors last year, the Lehigh men's indoor track and field team managed to rise to third place overall in Patriot League standings. Led by captains Justin Taylor, Gene Rosamilia, Colin Reardon and Steve Richardson, the men repeatedly created a name for Lehigh across the boards. While the upperclassmen provided a consistently strong showing, the sophomores surprised many opponents this year. Three sophomores, Alex L'Heureux, Todd Johnson and Chris Lambert, each earned a place on the Patriot League team for the first time in their careers. L'Heureux, a distance runner, also received All East Honors while breaking a Lehigh school record in the mile. To make a great season even better, Head Coach Matt Utesch received the honor of being named Patriot League Coach of the Year. The Mountain Hawks will graduate ten dedicated seniors, but have now established a solid foundation with which to build on.

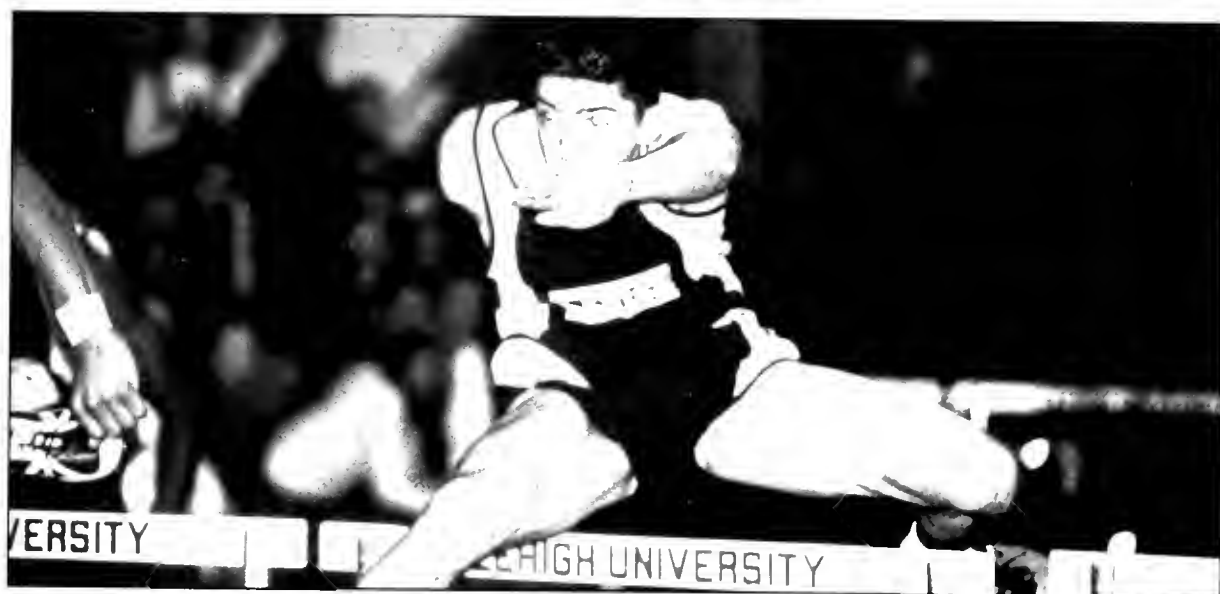

Steve Richardson, a middle distance runner on the Track and Field team, exemplified the Lehigh student athlete. The co-captain challenged many top runners during his four years, competing in events such as the 1000 meter and the 4x800 relay. Despite such hard competition he still managed to create a name for himself. Richardson broke the 16 year-old Lehigh school record for the 1000 meter this year. Outside of athletics, Richardson graduates high in his class with a degree in finance. The track team will greatly miss his leadership abilities and dedication for the sport.

INDOOR TRACK

The Lehigh women's track and field team returned a strong, experienced squad this year consisting of five seniors, sixteen juniors, and fourteen sophomores. Senior tri-captains Colleen Glass, Stacey Wright, and Katie Spain led the Lady Mountain Hawks in three out of five events, and left the underclassmen with a solid foundation to build upon. The freshman also gave a great performance with Katie Dukatz earning a place on the All Patriot League team in the high jump. Others, including Spain and sophomore Justina Barone, also earned positions on the team. Barone was selected as the Female Field Performer of the Meet and also earned All East Honors for her season long performance in sprinting events. Like the men, the women's team finished third place in the Patriot League tournament. The leadership and talent demonstrated by seniors, Jennifer Keenan, Danielle Lavoie, Wright, Spain and Glass will always be remembered and will help the young Mountain Hawks achieve future success.

Katie Spain finished her fifth and final season for the Lehigh Track and Field team with a bang. A solid player in both the shotput and discus events, Spain holds the school record for the 20lb weight in the shotput. To finish her career, the tri-captain earned the MVP title at the Deneault Invitation Tournament while also receiving honors in both the Patriot League and the ECAC/IC4A. For the first time in her career, Spain was selected to the All Patriot League and the All East team. Off the field, the senior was an inspiration to many people as she always had a positive attitude towards life. Lehigh athletics will greatly miss her incredible enthusiasm and talent.

WRESTLING

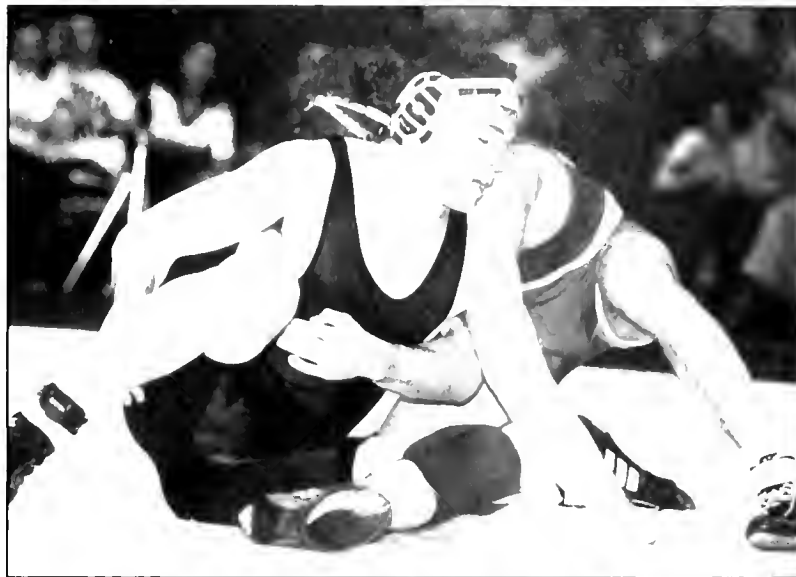

This season proved to be a successful one for the Lehigh Wrestling team on both individual and collaborative levels. At nationals, held in Iowa, Lehigh came home with three All Americans. Wrestling at 149 pounds, Dave Esposito placed second, making himself a two time All American in addition to his title of EIWA champ. Mario Stuart placed fifth at 125 pounds and Chris Vitale came in seventh at 157lbs. Among others that made it to nationals were seniors Matt Goldstein, Ryan Bernholz, Rob Rohn and heavyweight Shawn Laughlin. At the 78th Annual Lewis Wrestling Dinner, Esposito was named Most Valuable Wrestler, and Rob Rohn received the Scholar Athlete Award, for outstanding performance both on and off the mat. A valuable addition to this year's coaching staff was Assistant Coach Kerry McCoy. He joins Head Coach Strobel as the only other member of the US Olympic Wrestling Team to coach at Lehigh. Lehigh Wrestling finished its season at 18-5, with only two major losses to Michigan and Oklahoma State. This is no small achievement, especially considering the injuries sustained this season that made it impossible for key team members to wrestle. Despite these injuries, the team succeeded as a whole and the wrestlers have faith that they will continue to achieve more next season through strengthened team unity.

Senior Ryan Bernholz, recipient of the Coach's Award and a 1999 All American was captain for his third consecutive season. The 1998 EIWA Champion, Ryan became the first Lehigh freshman since 1984 to win that title. Overcoming a knee injury last season, Bernholz set several school records en route to finishing with a 94-25 overall record. His two year total of 72 wins in his first two seasons was the most by any LU wrestler ever. And Ryan's 37 wins during the 1998-99 season was the third most single season overall in Lehigh history.

The spring season at Lehigh was as eventful as it was disappointing. The softball team was the only spring team to bring home the Patriot League title and advance to NCAA playoffs. Their win over Seton Hall gave them the honor of being the only Patriot League team to win a NCAA Regional game. Junior Bowen Osborn was the second player in Lehigh history to be the Patriot League Golfer of the Year. Both the men's and women's lacrosse teams endured tough seasons. Four men and two women will be lost to graduation so the coaches will be looking for their younger players to step up next year. The women's tennis team lost to Army in the semifinals of the Patriot League Tourney, while the younger, inexperienced men's squad fell to Bucknell in the quarterfinals of the Patriot League Tournament.

BASEBALL

The Mountain Hawks were expected to make waves in 2001. 2000 NCAA Batting Champion and senior Pat Hollander, as well as a core of experienced upperclassmen returned, but injuries took their toll and Lehigh went through a 14-28 campaign, going 6-14 in conference play.

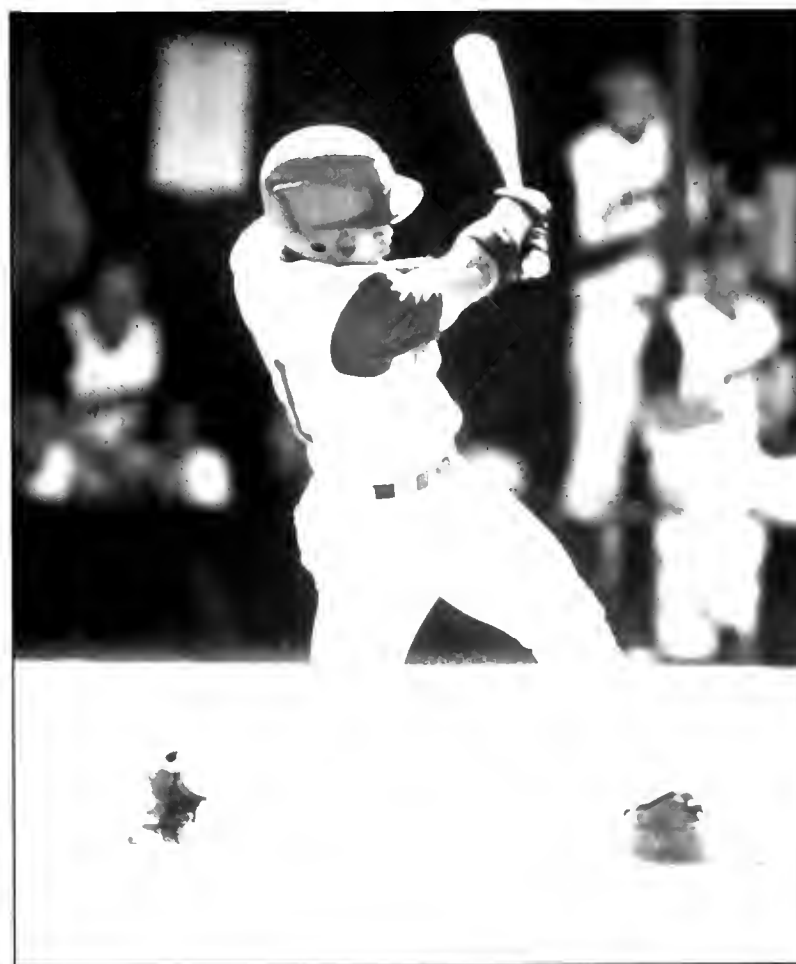

The Mountain Hawks had some extraordinary performances during the 2001 season. Junior Dave Cerminaro (Pottstown, PA/Pottsgrove) was the team's backbone as he earned second team All Patriot League Honors after he went 4-4 with a 3.80 ERA while striking out a team-high 43 batters while just walking 13. Cerminaro was also twice named Patriot League Pitcher of the Week. Lefty Brian Andalman (Deerfield, IL/Deerfield) was the No.2 in the rotation and ran into some tough-luck throughout the season. Senior Ryan Parish (Terrace Park, IL/Manemont) went 2-3 with a 7.04 ERA and 26 strikeouts as the No. 3 starter. Senior Josh Hillman (Bellport, NY/Bellport) went 1-6 as the No. 4 arm in the rotation.

Senior co-captain Pat Hollander began his Lehigh career as a transfer student and had to wait a year to make his debut due to NCAA rules. Pat didn't waste any time making a name for himself. In his first season at Lehigh, he led the nation with a .505 Division I batting average. Head Coach Sean Leary complimented Pat's ability to maintain a level head in the midst of compiling stats: "He has a good approach to baseball. He doesn't try to do too much, and that's important that he doesn't go up there every time and try to hit a home run," Leary said. "He has a tremendous natural ability, but he also does what the situation calls for. It takes a lot of maturity to bat this high along with a great mental approach."

SOFTBALL

Lehigh's softball team set many records this season, finishing 18-2 in the Patriot League and 39-15 overall. Lehigh's remarkable and record breaking season came to an end as the MountainHawks were eliminated from the third round of the NCAA Regional Tournament but not before pioneering uncharted territory for both Lehigh and the Patriot League. The Mountain Hawks became the first Patriot League team in its history to win a Regional Tournament game with a 2-0 win over Seton Hall. "We've set a pretty high standard by our accomplishments this season," head coach Fran Troyan said. "Our challenge for next season is to get back to this level of competition."

Lehigh claimed its fifth Patriot League Title by defeating Colgate, 4-3 and 7-3, in the championship finals at Patriot Park. The top-seeded Mountain Hawks needed two wins against the third-seeded Red Raiders to capture the title and did so in exciting fashion. Sophomore pitcher/designated player Jenny Bender was named Most Valuable Player of the tournament as she collected two pitching wins while batting .611 in the weekend double-elimination tournament.

Bonnie Hoffman is a two-time captain who led Lehigh to a Patriot League softball championship as a senior and regular season title as a junior. On the field, Bonnie earned All-Patriot League First Team honors four times, becoming only the fourth player in league history to achieve that distinction. Bonnie is also president of the Student-Athlete Executive Council, and participates in several extracurricular activities. "Bonnie is one of our more important players," head coach Fran Troyan said in The Brown and White. "She's been a starter since she arrived on campus. She's an extremely consistent outfielder and hitter, but more important than her play on the field is the fact that she's a natural born leader. She's been a fantastic leader for us."

TENNIS

Head Coach Dave Shook guided his young and inexperienced team to finish at 9-9 on the year and 1-2 in the Patriot League. The Mountain Hawks earned their only conference win, a 6-1 decision, against long time rival Lafayette on March 29th, Lehigh's ninth straight over the Leopards. The Mountain Hawks fell to Bucknell in the quarterfinals of the Patriot League Tennis Team Tournament.

Senior Kenny Leung (Princeton Junction, NJ/St. Stephens) finished his Lehigh career 34-44 in singles competition and 20-20 in doubles. This season he teamed with sophomore and No. 4 singles player Craig Ditman (Cheshire, CT/Cheshire) as the two were 3-7. Leung was in the top singles flight this season. At No.2, Gary Drozdowski (South Hadley, MA/South Hadley) went 7-10 and 1-2 in the conference this season. The senior teamed with sophomore Ryan Cann (Rocky Hill, NJ/Montgomery) as the No.1 doubles team. The two went 7-8 and 2-1 in league play. Freshman Brad Wimmer (Cherry Hill, NJ/Cherry Hill East) finished 9-7 at No. 5 and teamed with Ditman at No.3 doubles to go 5-0.

Senior Co-Captain Gary Drozdowski is universally respected by his coaches and teammates alike, both for a winning record, and a positive outlook. He helped lead Lehigh's men's tennis team to a respectable record, and managed to play well at home and away. "I give a lot of credit to Gary Drozdowski because, as a senior, this was his last home match. He played absolutely perfect to end his career at Lehigh, and he won the match for the team," sophomore Craig Ditman said.

TENNIS

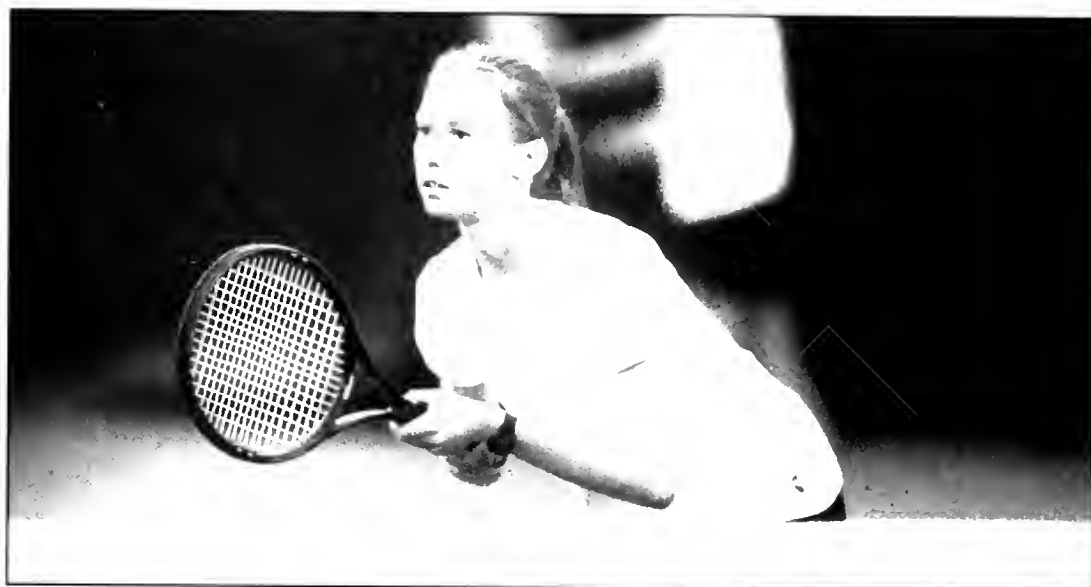

The Lehigh women's tennis team started off slow but responded by winning five of its last six matches including a 4-3 victory over pre-season favorite Colgate. With a strong regular season showing in conference play, the Mountain Hawks earned the top seat in the Patriot League Tournament but were upset by the eventual winners Army in the semifinals, ending the season with a 7-6 record and a 2-1 mark in the conference. Freshman Rachel Samson was the No. 1 player this season, compiling an 11-2 singles record and a 9-3 record at No. 1 doubles with junior Erica Feinman. For her outstanding play, Samson was named to the All-Patriot League Team in singles and to the All-Patriot League Team in doubles with Feinman. At No. 2 singles, Feinman went 8-3. Senior Lauren DeCarlo was 8-4 at No. 3 and 0-1 at No. 2. Junior Meggan Dencker went 7-4 at No. 4 and 0-1 at No. 3. Senior Megan Bramble saw action at 6th singles, going 0-2, but was mainly used in doubles as she was teamed in six different combinations compiling a 7-5 overall record. Junior Julie Moscow appeared in four doubles pairings, going 3-1.

Senior Lauren DeCarlo will be missed next season as Lehigh's women's tennis team struggles to replace her. A strong singles and doubles player, Lauren finished with an 8-4 record at No. 3 singles and a 4-1 overall (2-0 conference) record with doubles partner Megan Bramble. A key victory for Lauren came in a 6-0, 6-2 win over Colgate's Lorraine Coulter. Lauren's win helped propel the team to a major upset over Patriot League rival Colgate.

TRACK & FIELD

The Mountain Hawks capped off a brilliant season with many highlights on the 2001 season including a sweep over rival Lafayette, nine All-League selections and several strong showings at the ECAC/IC4A Championships. Lehigh finished in third place at the Patriot League Tournament led by the Male Co-field Event Athlete of the Meet Todd Johnson. Johnson placed in the top five in five events including finishing second in the pole vault (15'9"), third in both the high jump (6'7") and the triple jump (45'8"), fourth in the javelin (193'8") and fifth in the long jump (21'11.75"). Lehigh's Patrick Dugan finished first in the javelin (209'00") to add to the Mountain Hawks' efforts while Alex L'Heureux finished second in the 800 meter and Rob Black finished second in the 3,000-meter steeple chase. Colin Reardon chipped in as well finishing second in the 400-meter IM hurdles. At the ECAC's, the men's team finished 40th overall as it accumulated four team points courtesy of Todd Johnson and Chris Lambert. The two sophomores finished 6th and 8th respectively in the decathlon.

Sophomore Todd Johnson is primed to make Lehigh proud, and he has been doing just that since signing up with the men's track and field team. Todd broke a Lehigh record in the pole vault at the NJ Invitational. His vault edged out a 1979 record that he broke again a week later. At the Patriot League Championships he was named Male Co-field Event Athlete of the Meet, placing in the top five in five events to help the Hawks finish third. Earlier this year Johnson gained All-Patriot League status, finishing second in the pole vault at the Patriot League Indoor Track and Field Championships.

TRACK & FIELD

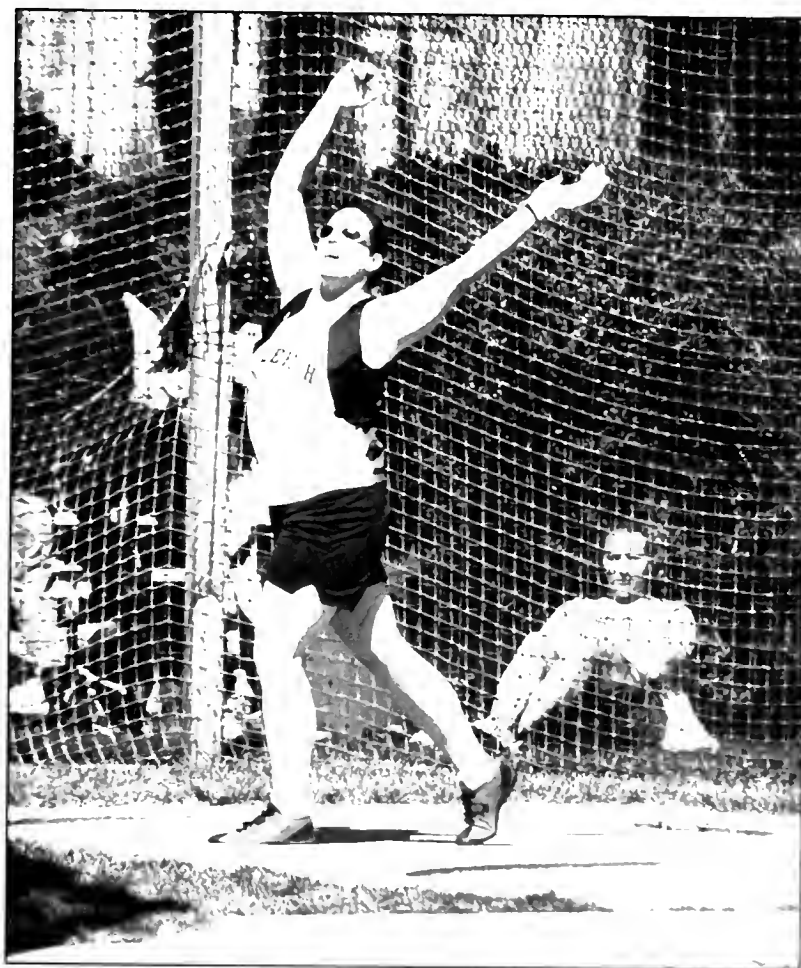

Lehigh competed in the ECAC/IC4A Championships this weekend and almost produced an NCAA qualifier in Katie Spain. The senior placed 6th in the hammer throw and nearly missed qualifying for the NCAA nationals as her best throw of 174'03" was nine feet short of provisional qualification. Her sixth place finish earned her team three points, good enough for 41st place. Other finishes at William Weaver stadium on the campus of Princeton University included Sue Klingensmith's 13th place finish and teammate Yasmin Deliz's 23rd place finish in the javelin throw. Spain also placed 13th in the shot put. At the Patriot League Tournament, Lehigh ended the competition in third place. The Mountain Hawks were led by freshman Elizabeth Heard, who won the 100-meter high hurdles in a time of 14.98. Sophomore Claudin Hull also made history for Lehigh, winning the first ever Patriot League women's 3,000-meter steeple chase in a time of 11:06.53. Katie Spain's efforts on day one in the hammer and shot provided a solid base for the Mountain Hawks. Lucinda Hull finished second in the 5,000 meter and Suzanna Klingensmith finished second in the javelin.

Junior Justina Barone has been setting new standards for Lehigh since her arrival on the track. Her 2001 season included several personal bests. Justina gained All-East recognition at the ECAC's for her sixth place finish in the pentathlon. She started things off right for Lehigh when she earned the first of the four All-East honors in Friday's competition. Individually, Barone posted a 9.35 time in the hurdles, 5'3/4" in the high jump, 31'8" in the shot, 17'1/4" in the long jump and a time of 2:20.47 in the 800-meter run. Her events scored 3,510 points. Her shot and long jump were both personal bests.

GOLF

Lehigh golf finished out its season with a seventh place finish at the Rutherford Intercollegiate Tournament hosted by Penn State. The Mountain Hawks shot a three-round 900 total to finish tied for seventh with George Mason University. Penn State won the tournament shooting an 863, 19 strokes better than the runner-up James Madison. Mike Eglit led Lehigh with a 217. Bowen Osborn, the Patriot League Individual Champion, struggled in the first round shooting a 79 but quickly recovered to shoot a 71 and 69 respectively in the last two rounds. Osborn finished tied for 13th overall.

Women's golf at Lehigh will achieve NCAA Division I varsity status for the 2001-2002 season. Other news from the Lehigh golf program is that a new on-campus practice facility is being developed and is scheduled to be opened in the fall of 2001. Current plans call for a driving range, a chipping green with bunkers and the possibility of one or two practice holes. Since the women's team already has access to the nearby Locust Valley Golf Club, this new practice area gives the women a complete practice and playing package.

Junior Bowen Osborn's name now has a permanent place in the Patriot League's record book. He won his first Patriot League individual golf championship with a score that was not only the best at this year's tournament; it was the best score ever shot. Bowen was voted the league's MVP en route to helping Lehigh finish third in the team competition. "I'm really proud of Bowen," Lehigh Coach Kelly Gutshall said. "You don't know how you will feel until it happens. There's no way of anticipating what your pride will be. This is the best any player has ever scored while I've coached in the last 11 years. This is a marvelous thing for Bowen to do as a junior. This will pump up the other players on the team."

The Lehigh men's lacrosse team hit some bumps in the road as the Mountain Hawks finished 4-10 overall and 2-4 in the league. No win was sweeter than the season-finale as Lehigh avenged last year's loss to rival Lafayette. With the playoffs out of reach, Lehigh took its frustrations out on the cross-valley Leopards in a 19-10 victory. The Mountain Hawks will lose just four seniors as a slew of underclassmen return for 2002. Among those returning are All-Patriot League First Team selection juniors Gabe Osorio (Havertown, PA/Haverford) and Second Team pick Christian Castellani (New Canaan, CT/Langley VA). Castellani ranked 3rd in the league in goals (33) and tied for 4th in points (46). Sophomore Grant Wasch (Earlsville, VA/St. Anne's Bel) complemented Osorio and Castellani to form a powerful front line. Wasch opened the season with four goals and an assist versus Denver and had another five-point game with Towson. Juniors Matt Testa (Broomall, PA/Marple Newtown) and Anthony Lowe (Setauket, NY/Ward Melville) added depth to the attack position as Testa tallied five goals and three assists while Lowe netted 14 goals and added two assists.

Junior Gabe Osorio is humble about the skills he acquired while learning to play lacrosse at Haverford High School in his hometown of Haverford, PA. "I hadn't even really picked up a stick until ninth grade," Gabe said. "I only started playing lacrosse because all of my friends were switching over from baseball, and I wanted to be with them." While only a freshman, Gabe stepped onto the field taking on the position of attacker for the Mountain Hawks. He registered seven goals and four assists that season. He also played an important role by helping to advance his team to a Patriot League Championship. This season Gabe led the team in points and goals, with 26 and 17 respectively.

The women's lacrosse team loses only two seniors to graduation, and Head Coach Jackie Keeley has reason to believe the future looks very bright for the Mountain Hawks in 2002. Carine Allaf (Ardmore, PA/Lower Merion) and Captain Dorothy Super (Ridley Park, PA/Ridley) are the team's two seniors. Allaf, the team's scholar-athlete and inspirational leader, closed out her career scoring five goals and adding two assists. She bounced back from a leg injury in her sophomore season. She finished with six career goals and five assists. Super, mostly a defender during her career, saw some time in the midfield and recorded her first points as a Mountain Hawk with four goals and an assist. For her stellar play, Super was a Patriot League First Team selection. Junior Kristin Strohm (Sellersville, PA/Pennridge) was also named a First Team selection as she was second on the team in scoring (13 goals/seven assists) and also was the squad leader in ground balls with 39. Strohm recorded a season-high five points against Ohio, scoring twice and setting up three others. She also netted three goals versus West Chester University.

Senior Dorothy Super led the Lehigh women's lacrosse team as a two-time All-Patriot League defender and recipient of the 2000 Lehigh Coach's Award. Dorothy earned her second straight First Team selection. She was also a Second Team selection in 1999. Head Coach Jacklyn Keeley said about the team this year, "Dorothy and the other girls are very helpful and are going to do a great job leading the team this year." Dorothy, a defender, also showed some offensive flair by scoring four goals and adding an assist.

Student Senate

The Student Senate of Lehigh University is the governing body over all recognized undergraduate student organizations. The purpose of Student Senate is to protect student rights and promote positive change. The Student Senate dedicates its actions to improving the quality of life for present and future students. Senate is the voice of the student body and the link to the administration and faculty. Current standing committees include: Assignments and Recognitions, which votes on and recognizes new senators and clubs; Allocations, which allocates funds to student organizations; Campus Improvements, which tackles issues on campus that need to be addressed; By-Laws, which regulates procedural implementations and innovative rules of order and keeps the constitution up-to-date; and Publicity, which keeps the student body informed about all important campus information in addition to publicizing Senate events and projects. Ad-Hoc Committees this year included: Inauguration, Lehigh-Lafayette, Environment, Fitness Equipment, Constituency, Web Page and Election. Liasons this year were to organizations such as RHA, Panhel, IFC, University Productions, Project IMPACT, Black Student Union and Class Council. Lehigh University's Student Senate XIII had another successful year, and everybody looks forward to addressing future issues on campus.

The Lehigh University Residence Hall Association (RHA) is the chief legislative body of residence hall students. It provides a governmental as well as an informal forum to foster communication among students, staff, faculty and administration. RHA also provides a wide range of services including social, recreational and educational programs to meet the needs and interests of students living in residence halls.

Alpha Phi Omega, a co-ed national service fraternity, was founded on the principles of leadership, friendship, and service. At Lehigh University, the Alpha Psi chapter has been serving the community for 65 years. This fall, APO hosted local elementary students at a concert for the Lehigh University Philharmonic at Zoellner Arts Center. In the spring, APO held Community Interaction Day and over 275 volunteers from Lehigh and the South Side community participated in the half-day event. Members of APO enjoy participating in various service projects including volunteer work with children and the elderly. Whether the Alpha Psi chapter is cleaning the streets or playing bingo with the elderly, members of APO are forming lasting friendships and helping to build a better community.

Dancin' is Lehigh's organization dedicated to all forms of dance. The main goal of the club is to broaden dancing skills and expand performance capabilities. Weekly lessons are given in the areas of jazz, ballet, tap and hip-hop and members of the group compete in their annual spring concert. Members of Dancin' also participate in master classes held by visiting artists.

The Opera/Musical Theatre workshop at Lehigh University was founded by Laura Johnson in 1995 under the aegis of the music department at the invitation of chairperson Nadine Sine. Starting with only four student participants in its initial presentation at Lamberton Hall, the program quickly grew each successive semester to include a company of more than twenty for the premiere presentation of "Divas, Dolls and Demoiselles of the Demimonde" in Baker Hall at the Zoellner Arts Center in April, 1997. This enthusiastic student response motivated the decision to produce a full-length musical, Stephen Sondheim's "Into the Woods" in January, 1998 followed by "A Little Night Music" in 1999. Both musicals received critical acclaim. "Le Nozze di Figaro" marked the debut of "Opera at Lehigh" and the realization of a dream for Ms. Johnson and Professor Paul Salerni to collaborate on professional operatic productions at Lehigh while providing opportunities for talented students onstage, in the pit and behind the scenes. It was a natural progression from both the Opera/Musical Theatre Workshop and the Lehigh University Very Modern Ensemble that produced stagings of several twentieth-century one-act operas and musical/theatre pieces. "The Pirates of Penzance" was the first production that used a cast made up entirely of Lehigh students. The next "Opera at Lehigh" production, "Rossini's Il Barbiere di Siviglia" (The Barber of Seville), is scheduled for September 2001.

University Productions

University Productions is Lehigh's largest programming board. Throughout the year, executive board members and their committees plan everything from concerts to comedians and Broadway plays to inflatable fun. With more than a little help from its advisor, UP continuously offers something for everyone, and the focus is always on student participation.

Mustard and Cheese

Founded in 1884 in the backroom of Renning's Bar, the Mustard and Cheese Drama Society is the second oldest drama society in the country. The Drama Society, with the cooperation of the Theatre Department, is dedicated to providing theatre education and opportunities in performance and design to Lehigh University students. Composed of any students that show a continuing devotion to all aspects of theatre, the society consists of seven student-elected execs, an advisor and a HUMUNGOUS following of members. The theatre has come full-circle this year by supporting student productions and tightening bonds with the music department by co-hosting a Mardi Gras party with Kappa Kappa Psi. This year member/faculty Drew Francis held a portfolio review in which all design students showcased their work for all to see. It was really damn cool. There were also several additions to the department this year including Marsden Black Francis, newborn son of Erica Hoelscher and Drew Francis. Who could ever forget the unbeatable, the unbreakable, doughnut-eating champion Edann "Knock'em Dead" Brady or Wednesday night Improv? What ARE they doing up there? Someone once asked, "Do you really know what M&C is?" I guess we never will but we had fun anyway while giving Lehigh theatre a boost into the future of fuller understanding of the arts. So come see a play, come be in a play, come write a play, whatever you desire...LET YOUR DREAMS FLY!

Gryphon Society

Established in 1957, the Gryphon Society is composed of 82 Resident Assistants spread throughout 11 residence hall areas. The organization's goal is to provide social activities for all the Gryphons and to organize campus-wide social and philanthropic events. This year began with a campus-wide Tie Dye Party during Welcome Week in addition to providing all freshmen with discount Keeper Cards. Throughout the fall semester, the Gryphon Society worked on creating a brand-new constitution. In March, the Gryphons celebrated at a formal at Radisson Hotel Bethlehem a week after a successful charity volleyball tournament. To end the year, the Gryphons attended a closing banquet with awards and honors at the Allentown Hilton.

It was a really busy and exciting year in politics – many races provided opportunities for the College Democrats to participate in events of local and national importance. The members were awesome and helped with everything from holding an on-campus voter registration drive and supporting local candidates to volunteering at the local Gore rally. Their trip to Capitol Hill was the perfect end to an eventful year, and they had a private, behind-the-scenes tour with special access to the Capitol through Sen. Kennedy's office.

Global Village

From June 24 to August 4, 2000, 84 young business managers, entrepreneurs and graduate/undergraduate students from 36 different nations came together on Lehigh's campus to form the largest and most diverse Global Village for Future Leaders of Business and Industry to date.

Kappa Kappa Psi

The Kappa Gamma chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi is highly active on campus. Members of this Honorary Fraternity for Band Members could be seen teaching pre-school and middle school students about music, inventing a Central Precincts Day at Hershey Park and co-hosting a Mardi Gras Night and Halloween Party. All members are tied together with a love for music. Kappa Kappa Psi is growing with every anniversary, expanding events for musicians and non-musicians.

Marching 97

What does DAG really mean? Do you have enough pysche? Or are you just a firetrucking slow frosh? These questions can all be answered by the elite, the prestigious, the...oh who are we kidding?... "best band east of all points west," the Marching 97. Whether it was masterin a demon drill or bearing the cold, the Marching 97 once again psyched up all things for Lehigh University. The band members even jumped on a plane to follow our players to Illinois when they were all more afraid of the townies than the football players. In all, there was much play ayery, leg-liftery, and march-marchery. Yes, you can add "-ery" to anything. As the Marching 97 seniors leave the masses they bid adieu to their precious high and to the memories they will carry with them forever. School may only last for four years, but friends last forever. Things they will always remember: citrus frosh, 97, 69, 433 Montclair, 421 Montclair, floor Beirut? bondage is not always a bad thing, Trembley 52, Rauch Field House, announcements, the Quest, dinks...and why they are our best friends, our "other" best friend, Guido, de plane de plane, doo rags, soccer with the reigners, Alumni Band, Al and his...chem...conducting?, winging it...literally, hematoma, random hookups, stalkers, and most importantly...we just have more parties, banquets, banquets, parties and balls.

Pep Band

Upon the start of the basketball season, the members of Lehigh University Pep Band began gathering their music, instruments and props. To their surprise, the deer was nowhere to be found. They immediately sent out a search party figuring that if they split up they would find it faster. No one was able to find the deer until they went to the Naval Academy for the Patriot League Basketball Tournament. There he was, distracting everyone and shooting foul shots.

Established in May, 1999, the Lehigh University Table Tennis Club aims to introduce the sport to the campus and to provide a fun and exciting outlet for both novices and experienced players. The members of the Table Tennis Club would like to thank all who attended their practices at Lambertson and the Table Tennis Olympics in January.

The Lehigh Liners Program is a group of students that calls alumni and parents to raise financial support for the Annual Fund. The Annual Fund provides money for vital university needs such as scholarships, financial aid, facility renovations, lab equipment and student services. As part of the solicitation call, the Liners often provide information about the university as it exists today. The Liners connect many alumni back to Lehigh.

Senior Class Gift Committee

The Senior Class Gift began in 1928 when the students of the senior class decided to give something back to Lehigh in return for the education they had received. The Senior Class Gift, in support of the Annual Fund, enriches a variety of vital programs such as financial aid and scholarships, athletics, Career Services and facility improvement.

Formula SAE

Lehigh's Formula SAE team consists of members from all majors. The primary design team consists of mechanical and electrical engineers. However, business as well as arts and sciences students are needed to succeed in other aspects of the competition. Each year, this team continues to grow and gain support. In addition to the dedicated students, this group also has access to many of the engineering facilities including its own workroom and the student machine shop.

The Brown and White

Founded in 1894, The Brown and White is one of America's oldest student newspapers. Each semester new student editors take control of the paper and make it their own. Although the paper has two faculty advisors, Wally Trimble and Jack Lule always remain in the background to give students the hands-on experience that sets this paper apart from others. The Brown and White is a unique experience that affords editors the opportunity to work together in an ever-changing environment. This year saw two very different sets of editors-in-chief but one common goal: to produce the best quality newspaper possible. Brooke Herman (in the fall) and Larry Rodsky and Mickey Brown (in the spring) relinquished many of their evenings to make that goal possible. The Brown and White is expanding to stay current with improvements in technology. A redesigned online edition of the paper debuted in time for the last issue of the Spring 2001 semester and will feature interactive components as well as an entirely new online editorial staff.

The shared memories brought smiles, laughter, a few tears, and, at last, a sense of contentment. For slowly, from our treasured memories a kindred bond began to emerge.

That's how it is with people sometimes, When you least expect it, a common thread—golden, at that—begins to weave together the fabric of friendship.

Sporting their climbing gear, Aaron Czysz, Jason Sebok and James Evans prepare to take on an indoor wall at one of the climbing areas near Lehigh.

Dravo A2 proudly dedicates this section to all those who helped uphold its dieselness: Gryphon Johnny, Chizza, $%*&! taub, Seebie Jeebie, Oonk, Lavellme, Jake, I-Train, Semaj, Snave, Erb ("word"), Hester, Kret, the Governor, Taintus, Sammie, Glassman, The Waxler and Dude. We shall eternally remember the most diesel hall ever to reside in Dravo and we shall never forget: "I'm Diesel!" our elusive new "sub-free" member; the guided missile; all you base are belong to us; the pudding fight, baseball slaps: "YOU MUST BE SMOKIN!" chi omega

One year ago, the words Chi Omega meant nothing on the Lehigh campus. However, with the strong dedication of two southern belles and the courage of fifty upperclassmen of varying backgrounds and personalities, the Phi Mu chapter of Chi Omega was born. Founding a chapter of the nation's largest sorority organization and starting a sisterhood from scratch was certainly a challenge, but it began an opportunity for hundreds and hundreds of women to follow what will give them new friendships, the ability to get involved and a place where they belong. Doing something so significant and institutional- it's equivalent to a definition of pride.

So please, never forget...

Who let the owls out? Destination Unknown complete with Texas Toast and its very own caboose; Hey, what's in your box? (referring to the 6 box drawings); the not-so-flattering photo from the Halloween date party; Tristan and Kimberly as cardinal and straw; can you say "Y'all?"; letter days and pin attire days; Kelly's pinning; National Recruitment Workshop and Tristan jumping around at obscene hours of the morning; getting the Chi Omega name out there; finding white dresses in NOVEMBER; 11/11 a day of wishes coming true; being initiated by the S.H. herself; Rebecca Heather Burris; Phiiiiiii.....Muuuuuuuuuuu - give the cheerleader some credit; Chi O nerd of the week; Vicki who?; driving past the Lil' Gypsy Rose and going to the Elks lodge by mistake; Carnation Secret Santa; more letter days; the smarty-pants award; eating CAKE at every single celebration party we ever had; rush practice; more rush practice; even more rush practice; getting sick of the inside of Sayre Lodge; finally knowing everyone's names; a kick a' rush; eating Red Hots; everybody wants to be Liz Wambold; our awesome new member class; hey Bianca - how about those panhel meetings?; even more letter days; Half-Baked - now what do you think it means?; Kimberly in love..with Goosey's Santa Fe; and the never ending day of initiation.

To our seniors: Becky, Ryanne, Cat, Sabrina, Lauren and Emily

Even though you only spent a short time with us, you were the inspirational role-models of our sisterhood. We wish you the best of luck in your future endeavors; may they be as noble and true as the leadership and friendship you shared with us. We will miss you dearly, but remember, Chi O doesn't end - it lasts a lifetime.

The fate of Gamma Phi seniors 10 years from now. . .

Molly Hott finally graduated and still has the most fun and occasionally gets inappropriately drunk.

With only $50 in her bank account, Sara Bromley has traveled the world because some 55-year-old, hairy man paid for it.

Dr. Rhonda Renee Roberts owns her private practice in Jersey, and even her dental chairs are leopard print.

Skye Sonneborn gives private yoga lessons and is married through common law to her Mexican lover, and they live in the South of France with their child Moonbeam.

Lauren Carlucci is still a proud resident of Greenwich, and she recently opened a salon named BANGS---where all the stylists wear jean jackets.

Deborah Harris is hippy dancing cross-country with Phish, Alex and their baby pooch Riley.

Michelle Zarrilli is an aerobics instructor and just eloped to Vegas with husband #4.

Dana Schorer answers phones for QVC Home Shopping Network and has a great tan. She wrote an article in Parents Magazine titled Is your child prank calling?

Heidi Schauer is head pole-dancer at SCORES in NYC...her kitty still sleeps between her legs every night.

Michelle Kantor is a surf instructor in Costa Rica by day, photographer by night, and now she, too, wears 2 different colored socks.

Rachael Hansen is training for her first rodeo.

While running on the treadmill Rachel Patterson stumbled upon a cure for AIDS.

Sam Vose still has her two greatest assests--her big mouth and her big h%bs.

Meaghan Kennedy just introduced her own line of sunglasses. She is a Manhattan socialite and is still picking fights with strangers and spilling drinks on anyone she can get her hands on.

Michelle Kashlak is organizing the Lehigh/Gettysburg Key West reunion.

Whitney Drew is teaching her kids the fundamentals of a good Beirut game.

Rachel Eberle is CIO of Clorox.

Princess "Jahn" Jan Triani is training for a marathon and living in Jersey and still finds time for her "once-a-day"---not the vitamin.

Jami Bisetti authored a book entitled "Jami-isms" and still hops out of cabs 4 blocks from her final destination.

Sam Woods still suffers from road rage but is in charge of the carpool and is teaching anger management classes at her club on weekends. ironic Adrianne Smelko gave up on her list of things-to-do, was fired from Coyote Ugly and is now in drug rehab. Who woulda thought?

Cheryl Hoops recently rediscovered her passion for painting and has a contact list of CUTE BOYS and military men on hand for naked portraits.

Katie Karoussos recently published a NY Times best seller, "Diets Don't F*(Kin& Work."

Beth Guthrie recently decided she'd rather kiss her shoulder than work at any job---she just quit her 30th...and by the way, does anyone have her ID and camera?

Alissa Bennett is 300 lbs. dude and hung over on the beaches of Florida, dude and barbers her beads for food, dude, and is still wearing that big stupid woven hat.dude.

Emily Stearns has finally come out of her shell and has become a fly-by-the-seat-of-her-pants kind of girl...your guess is as good as ours.

(Honorary) Missy Bauer has schmoozed her way up the PR ladder by feeding her clients vodka on the rocks. She still coordinates our yearly reunion in Key West (Honorary) When she is not on the tennis court, Megan Bramble runs her own law firm in Baltimore but is also starring in the latest tae-bo video. She still finds time for 3 square meals a day.

Thanks girls...it was fun.

We at Delta Sigma Phi are a brotherhood of men with different backgrounds and interests but with a similar goal in life. That goal is to live life to its fullest and to drain everything you possibly can out of every experience you encounter. Since 1932, this house has prided itself on that very principle, and it continues today.

As a house, we have always had a strong tradition for academics. On average, we are in the top 10 Greek Organizations on campus almost every semester. This year should mark our resurgence into that group as we are performing well in classes overall. There are a plethora of majors represented in our house, ranging over all three colleges, with relatively strong concentrations in Computer Science and Finance.

There is a strong tradition of leadership in our Delta Sigma Phi Chapter. Many of us held positions such as Class President or Vice President in high school, and a number of brothers hold executive positions in clubs around campus.

There is a significant opportunity inside our Fraternity to build leadership skills that will foster more opportunities when you join the workforce. Positions within the house consist of President, Vice President, Treasurer, Secretary, Sergeant at Arms, Social Chairman, Rush Chairman and House Manager, all of which have significant leadership roles in the day-to-day workings of our house.

When you first come to college, you are on the brink of making new friends that will be with you for the rest of your life. Your friends from high school are just as important, but the friends you make at college will share a certain bond with you that no one can understand except those who were involved. We have become brothers that are as close as any friends could ever be; each brother is as close with one brother as he is with the next, and that is a great feeling.

The most important thing we have at Delta Sigma Phi is our brotherhood. To live in a house where you know that everyone involved would go to the end of the earth and back for anyone in the house is indescribable. Every year, it seems that the brotherhood gets stronger and stronger. We are all looking forward to the future year.

UNDERGRADUATES

A portrait from the CLASS OF 2004 . . .

Have you ever had a best friend? Everyone says that college is where you meet the friends with whom you'll be close forever. . . Everyone is right! As I was wandering around the parking lot of the UC on move-in day, I heard someone shout out my name. It was my new roommate and soon to be best friend, Sara. That first night we stayed up all night talking about our friends and families. We had so much in common. It was like someone knew we would become the best of friends. We are frequently seen across campus, at dining halls, and at parties screaming ROOMMATE! at the top of our lungs. We have lunch together every Friday no matter how busy we are and call it our "Roommate Bonding Day." We have so much fun together, whether it is going to parties, making late-night trips to Wawa, or just hanging out in our room. People always ask us if we knew each other before college because it seems like we have known each other forever. At the beginning of the year Sara was homesick. She tells me all the time she never would have made it if not for me, and I tell her the same. Going to college is a CRAZY, exciting, SCARY, INDESCRIBABLE change, and having a roommate like Sara made the transition so much easier. We have been there for each other time after time and will continue to be forever. Even though I am living in a sorority next year and Sara is going to a Gryphon, we will still be BEST FRIENDS and just as close as we are now.

Who are the Lehigh Engineers?

SURVEY SAYS:

A portrait from the CLASS OF 2003 . . .

Remember the times when your best friends were those that you ate lunch with in your grade school cafeteria, or those that would play with you outside on the swings? As we mature and grow older, our friendships change from primitive relationships into deeper, lifelong bonds. My best friends today are my “sisters.” We live together, experience Spring Break together, and go out on Friday nights together. We live through our college years hand in hand - we laugh, cry, fight, and forgive. We know all about each other's past and how it affects us in the present. I love having my friends so close to me. When I have a problem, I walk down the hall for a comforting chat. When I'm bored, I walk downstairs to veg and watch “Sex and the City.” We have so much fun together, even when doing the stupidest things like waking up Margot. All the silliness, all the seriousness, and all the good times together are the best of memories. Together, we have a true friendship - a sisterhood.

What do you like to do instead of going to class?

SURVEY SAYS:

A portrait from the CLASS OF 2002 . . .

I have seen friendship take many different forms since freshmen year. Friends can be roommates, professors, or classmates. And sometimes, a friendship can turn into something a little more unexpected.

A very close friend of mine is also my BOYFRIEND, although it didn't begin that way. I met Justin almost two years ago, and we immediately became close friends. The bonds between us were initially forged from similar tastes in music, but we quickly learned that we were connected by more than the love of a few bands. I remember thinking after our first road trip that I had finally found someone that could match my love of music and my wacky sense of humor.

Since those first few days, our friendship has grown and become something stronger than either of us had envisioned. Our friendship is one that is based on mutual respect and a camaraderie that never ceases to amaze me. Justin is above all someone I can ALWAYS TALK TO without fear of judgement, and a friend that knows me better than most. He is always there for me and between the two of us, we have turned our separate groups of friends into one.

Justin makes me laugh, and understands the value of friendship within our relationship. Regardless of what happens in the future, he is a friend I will always be thankful for.

Why did you move off campus?

I've been living on campus for 3 years and I'd like a change of pace. Plus, it will prepare me for the real world.
Alyssa DeBonis
Accounting

I moved off campus because it's cheaper and allows me more freedom.
Scott Weber
Computer Engineering

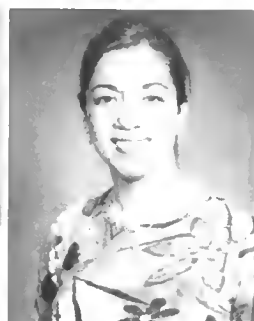

I lived on campus for 3 years and I'm looking for "new scenery." I also want to get a little further from my classes.
Valerie Schultz
Chemistry

While I loved being right in the middle of things, I wanted a taste of life off Lehigh's hills. I figured it would prepare me for life after college - dealing with monthly rent, utilities and a landlord.

Did you feel the beat at Lehigh?

As we reminisce on the 4 years at Lehigh
They can't do anything, but smile at the Memories that took them through loops and hoops.

With the 4 horsemen on the court

Lehigh need no support

Did you feel the rhythm of their

B	E	A	T
O	D	N	I
B	I	S	W
B	L	O	A
Y	N	I	N

There's no need to deny, they ruled at Lehigh.

Congratulations...Your Families

We hope you feel as proud as we do, Rebecca.

Congratulations to Noah and the Class of 2001...

You were determined to become an exemplary student and certainly have achieved this goal. But, academics aside, you are one special person!

Your strength is distinguished by an unrelenting goodness and your unselfish desire to succeed for everyone's benefit. We are far more proud of who you are than what you have accomplished.

Our wish - go, be yourself. The wind is in your sails.

With love and admiration,
Mom, Dad, Julie, and Mema

A special thanks to the faculty members who have encouraged Noah's excellence!

The man who decides
what he wants to achieve
And works till his dreams all come true
The man who will alter his course when he must
And bravely begin something new;
The man who's determined to make this world better,
Who's willing to learn and to lead,
The man who keeps trying and doing his best
Is the man who knows how to succeed.

Dear Andrea,

As you were...

As you are...

The whole family would be very happy with more of the same in the future.

We love you, and wish you achieve all those things that will make you lastingly happy.

Dear Jessica,
You have powers you never dreamed of.
You can do things you never thought you could do.
There are no limitations in what you can do except the limitations in your own mind
as to what you cannot do.
Don't think you cannot.
Think you can.

We are so proud of you! Congratulations on your graduation from Lehigh.
Keep smiling your special smile.

All our love,

Vanessa -

There have been many proud moments for our family, yet today seems the most special. Your determination is unequaled, yet your best qualities come from the enormous heart which you wear so easily open.

Mom and I are your biggest fans, but Pop, Little Noni, your aunts and uncles and cousins are a close second.

Big Noni is looking at you today with tears in her eyes and love in her heart.

College Graduate — What a spectacular accomplishment. Be very proud of what you have done — just remember that this is the beginning. Congratulations to a wonderful person who is deeply loved.

Congratulations Robert

We are so proud of you and all that you have accomplished.
May your future be filled with Good Health,
Happiness and Success.

We love you,

Colophon

Volume 125 of the Epitome yearbook was printed by Jostens Printing and Publishing, P.O. Box 297, State College, PA 16804-0297. Phil Klein was the Jostens representative for the Epitome. Dave Hartnett was the plant consultant. Bob Eyster was the design consultant.

Cover: The cover is a process color litho with matte varnish and UV gloss application. Material: White 478. Process color gray 317 with a matte varnish application. All text is in silver metallic ink 877. Fonts used included Grimshaw Hand, AGaramond and Avant Garde. The photographs were taken by Anthony Barbacane and Mark Huff of Davor Photography, Inc. The cover was designed by the editorial staff of the Epitome with assistance from Bob Eyster of Jostens.

Endsheets: The endsheets are process color on high gloss white stock.

Paper Stock: 448 pages were printed on Meade gloss enamel. The opening signature was printed on 90# Lustre with gloss varnish applied. Metallic silver ink was also used in opening signature.

Type: Body text was primarily in AGaramond (any style) of 10/15 spacing. Captions were in Avant Garde or AGaramond 10/12 spacing. Folios used Grimshaw Hand and AGaramond. Headline, sub-head, pull-quote, drop cap and caption styles varied per section.

Design: The book was produced entirely on Macintosh computers using Adobe Pagemaker 6.5 and Adobe Photoshop 5.5.

Photography: Photographs were taken, processed and printed by Davor Photography, Inc., Bensalem, PA, unless otherwise noted. Additional photographs were taken by Ryan Licwinko '01. Graduate portraits were taken by Davor. Undergraduate portraits were taken by Christmas City Studios, Bethlehem, PA. The swimming tip-in photo was taken by Christopher Christian. Theater photos provided by Laura Johnson in conjunction with other photographers hired by the theater department.

Price: The Epitome sold for $50 dollars. Shipping was $5.

Finance and Operation: The Epitome is an entirely student-run publication and is produced and managed by students with help from Advisor Linda Lipko and Assistant Diane Dymek. Funding to enable publication was received from the following sources: book sales, generous contributions from parents of Lehigh students, the sale of residence life, fraternity and activity pages and the sale of parents messages. The yearbook received no funding from the university. The total press run was 1,400 books.

The 2001 Epitome is copyrighted by Kristin Tedesco and Allison Mack, Editors-In-Chief. No part of this book may be reproduced in any form without prior written consent. Direct all inquires to Linda Lipko, The Epitome, Lehigh University, 29 Trembley Drive, Bethlehem, PA 18015. (610) 758-4185.

A portrait of this year's editorial board at times may have looked like a tired, frazzled bunch, but in the end it has been worth all the long hours and dedication. We started this book in August by taking a trip to Jostens' publishing plant in State College, PA with one goal in mind -- to break every conventional rule of yearbook design. Our goal was to create a book that not only focuses on the faces of Lehigh but also produces an artistic representation of the Lehigh community.

Thanks so much to everyone who made this possible!!! First and foremost, thanks to our Advisor Linda Lipko and Assistant Diane Dymek whose constant support and friendship throughout our time at Lehigh have made this a truly memorable experience. Thanks to the Managing Editors Nick Cappadona and Linda Murad for their dedication and assistance with many details that make this book so special. Thanks to all the editors and staff members for their terrific ideas and commitment in putting this book together. Thanks to Ryan Licwinko for taking many beautiful photographs, often at a moment's notice. We also want to thank Amanda Henry for spending a substantial portion of her summer down in the U.C. basement wrapping up this book with us.

Thanks to Phil Klein, Dave Hartnett, Art Grundfast, Bob Eyster and everyone at Jostens without whose guidance and design advice this book would never have happened. Thanks to Anthony Barbacane and Mark Huff of Davor for all the breathtaking photography throughout this book, especially the cover shots. A special thanks to Vicki Hagnevik for all her brilliant ideas in creating the theme for this year's book. Finally, a BIG thank you to Andrew Hartmann, the 2000 Editor-In-Chief for all of his advice and support. Andrew, we hope this book is as amazing as yours!

It is said that a picture is worth a thousand words. We hope the 2001 Epitome speaks volumes about your time at Lehigh.

Thanks so much!
